GAANDHI APPEALED TO FOLLOWERS

Urged Continued Campaign If He Were Arrested

Now Indian Leader Is in Custody

Bombay, March 11.—Followers of Mohandi K. Gandhi, Non-Co-operation leader, who is under arrest, today recalled a recent article in his newspaper in which he asked them to carry out "the whole construction programme with clockwork regularity and speed like the Punjab Express" in his absence. He was taken into custody at Ahmedabad charged with sedition.

A dispatch from Lahore, India, yesterday, said Lajpat Rai, a prominent Indian Nationalist, had sentenced yesterday to two years' imprisonment.

DOCTORS TO WAR ON DISEASE HERE

Medical Profession to Have Health Week

Plan to Educate People on Diseases

Victoria is to have a health week, commencing Monday week.

The object will be to give the people some accurate idea of the diseases which are ravaging the population of this and other countries and to explain as far as medical science knows the most effective way of coping with these diseases.

The announcement of health week in Victoria was made today by Dr. M. W. Thomas, secretary of the committee of arrangements for the Victoria Medical Society and the B. C. Medical Association who will stage this week here and in Vancouver, and other parts of the Province.

Rotary, Kiwanis, Gyro and Kumtiks clubs and other public organizations here will co-operate with the doctors under arrangements now being made.

Diseases to be dealt with will be cancer, tuberculosis and venereal. The question of milk and preventive medicine will also be taken up. One night will be devoted to each subject which will be taken up at a public meeting. Three doctors who can speak authoritatively will deal with each subject.

"Health week is an effort of community service by the medical profession to bring about better health conditions here and to educate and educational campaign eliminate much of the suffering which is caused by disease," Dr. Thomas explained.

CIRCUS OWNER IN NEW JERSEY WAS MURDERED

Official Forces Left in Control of Barracks

Large Groups of Men Leave the City

Riverside, N. J., March 11.—John Theodore Brunen, an amusement promoter and owner of the Doris-Ferrari circus, was shot and killed last night while seated near a first floor window of his home reading. A full charge from a shotgun struck him behind the left ear. His wife was on the second floor when the shooting occurred, and found the body of her husband on the floor when she rushed into the room. There is no clue as to the man who fired the shot.

LIMERICK TROUBLE SETTLED TODAY

Official Forces Left in Control of Barracks

Large Groups of Men Leave the City

Belfast, March 11.—A settlement of the trouble between the rival forces of the "Irish Republican Army" in Limerick has been reached. Under the agreement both parties will evacuate the city.

Small maintenance units of official forces, it is provided, will occupy the military barracks now in possession of the Free State troops. (By official forces presumably the British troops which remained in Limerick are meant.)

At 11 o'clock this morning large bodies of troops were leaving the city.

ELECTION PROTEST IS ABANDONED

Kingston, Ont., March 10.—It was stated here this afternoon definitely that the protest of the Liberal Party against the election of Dr. A. E. Ross to the House of Commons had been dropped. The Liberal Party had entered charges of corruption in the election.

WOMAN KILLED BY THREE MEN IN BELFAST

Belfast, March 11.—Casualties in Belfast today as a result of continuation of the disorders included one person killed, a woman, and two seriously injured.

Katherine Nelson, standing outside her home in Little George Street, was shot and killed by three men who escaped by boarding a tram car.

While delivering bread Edward McHenry was held up by armed men and seriously wounded. Earlier a young girl was severely injured by a bullet.

White men are said to be in league with Chinese in rings to conduct the narcotic drug traffic here. The number of local cases is growing rather than diminishing under the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act. In spite of added vigilance by the Mounted Police, who have given special attention to this branch of law enforcement, as have the provincial and city police, the traffic is extending and increased penalties in court are not wholly deterring the illegal distribution of drugs.

REVOLUTION IN TRIPOLI REPORTED

Rebels Cut Railways and Attack Garrisons

Two Italian Companies Said to Be Surrounded

Rome, March 11.—A revolution on a large scale has broken out in Tripoli, according to a dispatch to the newspaper L'Espresso from its correspondent in the capital. The rebels have cut the railway in many places and attacked the Italian garrisons. At Assiada, two companies of Italian soldiers surrounded by rebels are receiving food dropped from aeroplanes.

The Italians have evacuated Ghator and Zavia. The latter is on the coast about 125 miles East of the city of Tripoli.

SIGN AGREEMENT AT PARIS MEETING

Allied Finance Ministers Ask Governments' Views

Position of United States Is Discussed

Paris, March 11.—The semi-official Havas Agency today says: "Believing that the American memorandum establishes a new interpretation of the Treaty of Versailles which document has not been ratified by the United States, the Allied Finance Ministers have decided to refer the memorandum to their Governments. An agreement, however, will be reached and signed late today, with reservations as to the American rights."

The Allied Finance Ministers met at 10 o'clock this morning and were in session until noon considering the situation created by the memorandum handed to the Reparations Commission yesterday by Roland W. Boyden, the United States representative with the Commission, asking the payment of $241,000,000.

Paris, March 11.—The demand by the United States for reimbursement to the extent of $241,000,000 for the expenses of its forces in the Rhineland before any reparations are paid has provoked surprise and perplexity in French official circles. There is also some pointed comment in several of the morning newspapers. A French semi-official statement says the United States claim came exactly at the moment when the accord based on the reparations was about to be realized, and that it tended to destroy the whole system of reparations so laboriously elaborated by the Allied experts.

The Echo de Paris declares it is undoubtedly too late to give the United States its share of the 1,000,000,000 gold marks paid by Germany on August 30 last, as Belgium and England already have received their shares. The Allies certainly can not refuse to give the United States its share in law because the United States is at the same time responsible to and independent of the Allies question must be determined as to what is the utility of an American army on the Rhine if it is not in general support of the Allied Government.

Paradoxical. The Matin thinks the United States demand creates a paradoxical situation in law because the United States is at the same time responsible to and independent of the Allies question must be determined as to what is the utility of an American army on the Rhine if it is not in general support of the Allied Government.

The newspaper declares that if the United States refuse these reparations, the Belgian priority and the guarantee of the French Government expects are appreciably discounted.

SMALL AMOUNT OF PULPWOOD SENT TO U. S.

Ottawa, March 11.—(Canadian Press)—The ban on exportation from Canada of unmanufactured timber cut on Dominion lands has been lifted by the Privy Council in the case of J. R. Spear, Winnipeg. Mr. Spear has received permission from the Government to export pulpwood cut from dead timber on the lands in which he is interested and to export not more than 1,000 cords. This privilege was granted owing to the fact that the timber in question was only suitable for sulphide pulp and the nearest sulphide works were located in the United States.

European States Influenced by Course of U. S.

Official Announcement May Be Made Soon

London, March 11.—The Daily Mail today says the refusal of the United States to participate in the Genoa Conference so greatly deprives the conference of importance that some doubt is felt in political circles whether it will be held at all, and that its abandonment may be only a question of days.

The newspaper adds that by the abstention of the United States the conference loses any utility it may have had, and that it is a costly, grandiose scheme for humoring the Germans and the Bolsheviks.

CITY NOTES REAL ESTATE FILLIP

Land Sales Indicate Increased Land Demand

City Lots Are Purchased For Home Building

Increased purchases of the City's reverted lands, large number of enquiries for property and growing home building has convinced City officials in charge of land sales that the real estate conditions have undergone a complete change. The beginning of the year, and will continue to improve with the coming of Spring. Sales of reverted lands so far this year, according to Land Commissioner W. G. Cameron, have been much more numerous than those of January and February, 1921, and enquiries for land indicate more sales in the future. Last year the City sold $150,000 worth of vacant property and it is expected now that this sum will be largely exceeded this year.

Will Produce Revenue Again. Last week the City sold property valued at $6,400. While these sales did not bring in a very great amount of money they mean that four parcels of land will begin to produce revenue for the City again. Houses are being built on the properties while the purchasers of the two vacant lots intend to build upon them at once.

As a result of negotiations that have been proceeding this week the City now has under consideration the sale of nine more parcels of land. The people who intend to purchase these lots are planning to build on them. Two are being purchased for the erection of business buildings and six for the erection of homes. Sale of this vacant land would add to the city about $5,000 and will put nine more parcels back in the revenue-producing class.

Based on Market Values. Prices on city land are now based entirely on market values. Mr. Cameron explained today. A faction of the City Council endeavored some time ago to have all reverted lands sold for the amount of delinquent taxes due on them. The Civic Reverted Lands Committee and Mr. Cameron, however, decided that this was impracticable as many of the parcels were not worth the taxes on them at present market values. On this account, the actual market value of properties generally throughout the city was adopted as a price basis. A price has been set on every lot in the city's possession and this is not varied.

For Building Purposes. "The gratifying feature about recent sales of land is the fact that they are being bought almost every case for building purposes," Mr. Cameron said today. "There is more building going on in the city today than for many months past and real estate undoubtedly is picking up. The ordinary person scarcely realizes the increased demand for real estate but it is reflected in the operations of this department."

City building officials report that the first weeks of March have seen a promising increase in small building operations here.

SIR A. GEDDES SPEAKS IN CHICAGO

Ambassador on Way to Pacific Coast

Chicago, March 11.—Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, the prominent speaker today at a luncheon of the Chicago Association of Creditmen. He addressed an audience of bankers and business men on the subject "International Credit Relations."

"It is obviously impossible for me to talk of the treaties which have just been signed in Washington," Ambassador Geddes said on his arrival here. "Neither can I speak of political affairs within the British Empire."

Sir Auckland and Lady Geddes are en route to the Pacific coast for a "holiday," the Ambassador said.

TO BE TRIED. Hamilton, Ont., March 11.—Two women and a man, strikers from the clothing factory of Thornton & Douglas, were sent up for trial by Magistrate Jeffs yesterday. They were accused of intimidating women employees and with calling them abusive names.

COPS UNFAMILIAR WITH SHAKESPEARE; JUDGE FREED MAN

Chicago, March 11.—Jerry O'Hara, sixty-four years old, was arraigned in police court yesterday charged by policemen with standing on a street corner and shouting at the top of his voice words that shocked all hearers. O'Hara explained that he was merely quoting Shakespeare. He was discharged.

MONTAGU STATES HE WAS SACRIFICED

British Ex-Secretary For India Defends Himself

Asked to Resign to Save the Government

London, March 11.—Edwin S. Montagu, speaking before the Liberal Club in Cambridge, his constituency, today, justified the policy he had pursued as Secretary of State for India and declared the doctrine of "Cabinet solidarity" invoked in connection with his resignation Thursday had never been the ruling one. "My disappearance," said Mr. Montagu, "has nothing to do with the doctrine of collective responsibility. It is an effort to preserve this Government from the fate that must attend it."

Near Collapse. "You know how dangerously near the Government is to collapse. The members see their colleagues disappearing one by one. The Conservatives also have a lot to swallow. The die-hards have shown in the Indian question, as in all others, a complete lack of political sagacity. They are the most dangerous element in the political life of this country, and to them the great general principle of the country's destinies has given my head on a charger."

Mr. Montagu said he had never been able to understand the motive for the Premier's pro-Greek policy. "I do not think it is in the interests of the Greeks," he declared, "and I am certain it is calamitous to the British Empire."

Explaining the circumstances surrounding the publication of the Indian Government's telegram setting forth the Indian Moslem attitude toward Turkey, Mr. Montagu said he had admitted the telegram to members of the Cabinet last Friday week. On last Monday, he continued, there had been a Cabinet meeting at which Lord Curzon, the Secretary for Foreign Affairs, that on Saturday he (Montagu) had authorized the publication of the telegram.

If Lord Curzon had desired, Mr. Montagu declared, he could have resumed his seat in the Cabinet, which was still in session, and could have urged his colleagues to object to the publication of the telegram. "There was ample time to do this," he said, "but instead of doing this, Lord Curzon maintained silence and that evening wrote him 'one of those plaintive, hectoring, bullying, complaining letters' which were so familiar to Lord Curzon's colleagues and friends."

Mr. Montagu said he was convinced his policy for the development of India was "the right and only policy." "Smiles. 'The official reason given for my resignation,' he said, 'was that I, by publishing the Indian Government's telegram, outraged the doctrine of collective Cabinet responsibility. I can not help smiling.'"

He asserted there had been an absolute disavowal of the doctrine of Cabinet solidarity ever since Mr. Lloyd George had formed his Government.

As for the Government's Indian policy, Mr. Montagu declared he did not believe his resignation meant any alteration in that policy.

STEAMSHIP TAX BEING OPPOSED

Vancouver May Lose Connection With Lines

Vancouver, March 11.—It is possible the port of Vancouver will lose some of the steamship lines that have established agencies here. Shipping agents stated today that the head offices of some companies are considering withdrawing as a protest against the imposition of the city tax of $100 on every steamship line entering the port.

As a member of the rank and file I shall continue to give my party all the support and personal effort that I have always done in the past."

S. L. Howe, provincial president, announced that an arrangement had now been arrived at between the provincial and federal Conservative parties in the province. He declared that a joint convention would be held in the very near future.

CALL FOR CANADIAN MISSION WORKERS. Toronto, March 11.—Announcement of an urgent call for forty-eight men and women missionary workers to go from Canada to the Presbyterian mission fields in the northern part of Honan Province, China, was received at the general foreign mission offices of the Presbyterian Church in Canada yesterday. The call stated it was vital to the mission work that these additional missionaries start their duties during this year.

BRITISH LOCKOUT AFFECTS MILLION

300,000 Machinists in Engineering Trades Involved

Greatest British Crisis Since Coal Strike

Toronto, March 11.—A London cable to The Toronto Star says: "Three hundred thousand machinists in the engineering trades were locked out in England today."

"Employees and employers conferred throughout the night and this morning it was announced the situation was 'hopeless.' The strike directly and indirectly affects a million workers."

"England is faced with the greatest industrial crisis since the coal miners' lockout last Spring. Machinists in 2,500 factories throughout the country will be affected by the lockout."

To Vote. London, March 11.—The lockout in the engineering trades brought about by the failure of the negotiations between the employers and unions for adjustment of their differences largely by concerning shop management conditions became effective at noon today as far as the Amalgamated Engineering Union, with 400,000 members, was concerned. Some fifty unions indirectly involved, namely, the shipyard men, general workers and foundrymen, have accepted the proposal of the employees to take a ballot on the proposed managerial control agreement.

In pursuance of this agreement, 1,000,000 ballot papers will be sent out to the union members Monday, the ballots to be returned by March 23.

QUEBEC LIQUOR SYSTEM STUDIED

American Representatives Are Forming an Estimate

Quebec, March 11.—So great has been the success of the Quebec Liquor Act that other provinces in Canada will soon follow the Quebec system, and not only will the system be followed in Canada but also in the United States, declared Premier Taschereau in the House debate yesterday.

Mr. Taschereau, speaking of the extension of the Quebec system outside the Province, said: "There are now agents of the United States in Quebec to study the system and the big newspapers in the United States think the system of Quebec is the best, and dream of the day when it will exist in the United States."

Sunday Selling. Sunday selling of wines and beers may be totally prohibited in the Province. Hon. Jacob Nicol, Provincial Treasurer, has this in mind at present as an addition to the bill he will bring in shortly to amend the act of last session.

There is a question of permitting the hotels to sell to guests on Sunday as at present and eliminate only the restaurants, but the argument against this is that it might be called class legislation.

BOLSHEVIKI WANT BANKING RELATIONS WITH THE STATES

Moscow, March 11.—Leonid Krasin, Commissar for Foreign Trade in the Soviet Government, is quoted in the local newspapers as declaring that an agreement to "being" prepared with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York for banking relations with the new state bank of Russia.

BOWSER SAYS HE IS NO QUITTER

Would Follow New Conservative Leader If Elected

Vancouver, March 11.—"I am no quitter," said W. J. Bowser, leader of the Opposition in the British Columbia Legislature, speaking at a meeting of District One Conservative Association last night, "and if the Conservative convention should decide to elect another leader in my place I should be glad to step down and get behind my successor."

"As a member of the rank and file I shall continue to give my party all the support and personal effort that I have always done in the past."

S. L. Howe, provincial president, announced that an arrangement had now been arrived at between the provincial and federal Conservative parties in the province. He declared that a joint convention would be held in the very near future.

ELK LAKE PEACE

City By-law Would Settle Old Dispute

The Cowper scheme for solving the Elk Lake watershed dispute between the City and Saanich will be placed before the City Council for its formal approval Monday night, it was announced at the City Hall today. A by-law endorsing this scheme has been prepared, and will be introduced when the Council meets.

Strikers Killed in South Africa When Building Bombed

Johannesburg Dispatch Says Aeroplane Missile Killed Majority of Gold Miners and Destroyed Structure In Which They Were Meeting.

London, March 11.—The trades union hall at Benoni, near Johannesburg, crowded with South African gold mine strikers, was bombed by an aviator today, says a Central News dispatch from Johannesburg. The majority of those assembled were killed and the building was destroyed.

Johannesburg, March 11.—Jeppe, a suburb adjoining Johannesburg, was seething with strikers this afternoon. Most of the men were armed and some carried bombs. They are credited with planning to hold up the police in that area so as to prevent them from reinforcing other points, particularly Fordsburg, where intermittent firing was continuing today.

LIQUOR BOARD ESTIMATES PROFITS

Planning Own Insurance Department

Premier Oliver said today that before the Liquor Control Board can estimate its profits for the six months from September 30, it will have to complete its stock-taking and then have its accounts balanced. Until that is done there is nothing authoritative on which to base an estimate.

"Just how long this work of balancing the accounts and taking stock will require, we can't tell just now," the Premier said.

The business activities of the Liquor Control Board are to be expanded and its reserve brought into action for its own use by the addition of an insurance department, which will carry the large block of insurance on which the Board now has to pay big premiums for the protection of its stock of liquor, fixtures, vendors' stores and warehouses.

Plans for this have been taken up by the Liquor Board. Details of the scheme are being worked out.

Board Carries Heavy Stock. The stock carried by the Board runs between $1,750,000 and $2,000,000. The Board has investments of $200,000 more in fixtures and buildings.

The insurance will be worked in connection with the reserve fund which the Board is building up. At the last division of profits on September 30, after the first two and one-half months of operation, $141,000 of the $541,000 profits was set aside as a reserve fund. Members of the Board believe this can be most profitably invested in their own insurance department. There are now 49 stores and two warehouses in operation in the Province.

CANADA TO EXPORT BETTER BACON

Decreasing Shipments Cause New Grading System

Ottawa, March 11.—(Canadian Press)—According to the Federal Livestock Commissioner, Canada's export of bacon to Great Britain declined from 1,423,000 long hundred weight in 1920, to 844,000 in 1921.

Danish exports during the same period increased from 745,000 to 1,483,000 long hundred weight. In an attempt to induce Canadian farmers to produce the type of hog required to make first quality bacon, the Federal Department of Agriculture will begin May 1 to institute a system of grading hogs so that those of the right breeding, weight, quality and finish may command a premium. The Canadian packers are also offering special encouragement to the farmers.

ACT TO CONFIRM ELK LAKE PEACE

City By-law Would Settle Old Dispute

The Cowper scheme for solving the Elk Lake watershed dispute between the City and Saanich will be placed before the City Council for its formal approval Monday night, it was announced at the City Hall today. A by-law endorsing this scheme has been prepared, and will be introduced when the Council meets.

Under this by-law the City Council would agree not to subdivide and sell its Elk Lake watershed area without first asking the consent of the electors by by-law. Meanwhile the land would be formally declared a park area. This solution of the long-standing dispute between Victoria and Saanich over the disposition of Elk Lake was proposed at a conference between Victoria and Saanich representatives held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce this week. It is understood that it has the approval of Alderman A. E. Todd, who represented the City at this conference.

RATE LOWERED.

Paris, March 11.—The Bank of France today lowered its discount rate from 5 1/2 to 5 per cent.

At Brakpan and Denol the strikers apparently have obtained the upper hand, at least temporarily, and numbers of dead and wounded were lying in the streets.

Johannesburg, March 11.—Casualties in the fighting between the strikers and police had reached thirty-two killed and fifty-seven wounded by 8 o'clock Friday night, when the firing was still continuing. Of the thirty-two killed nineteen were policemen.

By 11 o'clock, however, the streets had become deserted and the town was unbecomingly quiet. The police was forbidden use of the streets.

ESQUIMALT P.-T.'S HAVE NEW SECRETARY

A meeting of the executive of the Esquimalt P.-T. was held in Lampson Street School on Friday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. Merry, reported on the resignation of Miss Harvey, owing to ill-health. This was accepted with regret and Miss Driver was appointed secretary in her place. Miss Morrison, the school nurse, reported that 2,194 half-pint bottles of milk had been sold to the children during February. The monthly meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon in the Assembly Hall of the school at 3.15, when the speaker will be Dr. Thomson, head of the Department of Dental Research of the University of Toronto. Dr. Thomson will speak on Preventive Dentistry and will illustrate his lecture by lantern slides. It is hoped that all parents will make an effort to attend and the older children of the school will be permitted to stay.

He Can Now Use His Arm Freely*WHY MIKEL NIELSON PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

British Columbia Man Finds That Sound Kidneys Make a Healthy Body by Using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Winlaw, B. C., March 10.—(Special.)—"Yes, I must say I found great benefit from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills," says Mr. Mikel Nielson, a well-known resident of this place. "When I came here I could not use my arm. Since using Dodd's Kidney Pills I can use my arm quite freely. I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills." "That Mr. Nielson's trouble was caused by disordered or diseased kidneys is evidenced by the relief that he got from the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They put the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities, all the seeds of disease out of the blood. Diseased kidneys are the cause of a great majority of the ills to which the human body is heir. Sound kidneys are an insurance against sickness. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound kidneys." (Adv.)

DEFEATED CANDIDATE ADDRESSES UNEMPLOYED

Francis Simpson, former councillor and candidate for Reeve in Saanich, addressed a meeting of the unemployed in St. Mark's Hall last night, emphatically criticizing the unemployment work of the present Saanich Council and blamed the present councillors for proposing to raise Reeve Watson's salary.

Unemployed men present complained that lists of unemployed at the Municipal Hall did not contain the names of all jobless men in Saanich. It was decided to forward to the Municipal Hall a copy of the list in the possession of the unemployed themselves. Some objection was voiced to the present system of allowing the Chief of Police to handle relief work. Several speakers said that women objected to going to a policeman for help.

OBITUARY RECORD

Impressive scenes were witnessed at the funeral yesterday of the late Leonard Parkinson. Rev. G. H. Andrews officiated at the service at the B. C. Funeral Chapel, Dr. J. E. Watson presiding at the organ. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends, and a wealth of beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the young veteran was held. The remains were conveyed to the cemetery on a gun carriage draped with the Union Jack, in charge of Sgt. Coney. The firing party was commanded by Sgt. Woods, while "Last Post" was sounded at the graveside by Bugler Hall. The following comrades, all of whom are members of the Amalgamated Veterans' Association, acted as pallbearers: Messrs. J. Stewart, C. Hill, Tout, R. Graham, J. Anthony, T. Cameron, J. Cameron and W. E. Tivey.

The funeral of the late Herbert William Leslie will take place from the Sands Funeral Chapel on Monday at 3.30. Rev. Thomas McConnell will officiate.

At St. Mary's Hospital, New Westminster, last evening the death occurred of Madge Wallace Reid, twenty-one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Reid, of Prospect Lake. She was born in Victoria and educated at St. Ann's Convent and last year made a tour of the world. At the time she was taken ill, Miss Reid was acting as a teacher of music at the Academy of Music in New Westminster, having taken the post temporarily during the absence through illness of the regular teacher. She was taken ill with influenza, pleurisy and pneumonia supervening and causing her death. Much sympathy will be extended to her family, all of whom have been ill with influenza. The remains are being brought to Victoria and the funeral will be held from the B. C. Funeral Chapel on Monday at 4 o'clock proceeding to St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak, for services and interment.

The remains of the late Mrs. Hazel Alice Ruth Trenchard, who died in Los Angeles on March 6, at the age of 29 years, reached the city yesterday accompanied by her mother, Mrs. E. Morrison. The funeral will be held from the B. C. Funeral Chapel on Monday at 2.30, the Rev. F. H. East officiating. Interment will be made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Members of the Government are putting the finishing touches on their preparations for the campaign in Nelson into which they will throw themselves next week to make certain of the election there of their candidate, Alderman Kenneth Campbell, and thus capture the seat which has for years been a Conservative stronghold. The election will be held early in the following week.

Premier Oliver accompanied by the Minister of Finance, the Hon. John Hart, will leave Victoria on Monday for Nelson. It is not known just when they will speak as details of the arrangements for the meetings have not been sent to the Coast. On Wednesday the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, will go to Nelson to get into action there during the latter half of the week. The Hon. J. D. MacLean, Provincial Secretary will leave for Nelson about the same time, according to to-day's plans.

Later in the week the Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, will proceed to Nelson. Mr. Sloan's advent in the district is being eagerly awaited because of the close connection he has had with it through its mining interests. Reports from Nelson assert that the Government will easily capture the seat.

W. J. Bowser, K.C., leader of the Conservative Opposition, will leave on Monday personally to enter the fight in Nelson. Mayor C. F. McHardy is the Conservative candidate.

RAILWAY TO SOOKE

It looks as though the Chamber of Commerce has no intention of dropping the fight for the inauguration of some kind of a train service over the Canadian National Railway lines to Sooke. Despite the recent intimation to the Chamber that the railway management failed to see where even a gas-driven train could possibly pay, the committee dealing with the whole matter yesterday held a meeting at which there was a determined and optimistic feeling in regard to the matter.

GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWS INFLUENZA*The After Effects Often More Serious Than the Disease Itself.

No reasonable precaution to avert an attack of influenza should be spared. The disease itself often proves fatal and its after effects among those who are spared, make the life of the victim one of almost constant misery. Ask almost any of those who have been attacked by this trouble what their present condition of health is and most of them will answer: "Since I had the influenza I have never been fully well." This trouble leaves behind it a persistent weakness of the limbs, shortness of breath, bad digestion, palpitation of the heart and a tired feeling after even slight exertion. This is due to the thin-blooded condition in which the patient is left after the fever and influenza have subsided. The condition will continue until the blood is built up again and for building up the blood and strengthening the nerves nothing can equal a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The value of this medicine in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mr. Edward J. McGuire, Pembroke, Ont., who says:—"In the Fall of 1918 I was attacked with the influenza—and not in a mild form either. I was confined to my room for three weeks, and although the influenza subsided I did not regain my health. As a matter of fact I seemed to be growing weaker. I had no appetite, was subject to fainting spells and my feet and ankles were badly swollen. The doctor told me that my condition had developed into a serious case of anaemia, and although I was under his care for over two months I was not improving in any way. At this stage one of my friends advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was loath to do so, as I began to think my case hopeless. However, I was finally persuaded to try them, and by the time I had used two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I continued taking the pills until I found that every symptom of the trouble had left me and I was again enjoying the best of health. I returned to my work and have ever since been in good health and feel that I owe it entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I think that anyone who is suffering from the after effects of influenza, or any form of anaemia should give this medicine a fair trial." You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. (Adv.)

HOSPITAL SUPPLIES

SENT TO RUSSIA

Swiss Assist Famine Area Relief Work

Berne, March 11.—A Swiss hospital relief expedition for the famine-stricken districts of Russia will leave here Monday. There will be twenty carloads of hospital supplies and a hospital car for the accommodation of several nurses and three prominent Swiss doctors.

From Italy.

Naples, March 11.—The Italian Red Cross is loading a steamship with medicines and foodstuffs valued at 7,000,000 lire preparatory to sailing for Novorossiysk. The supplies will be used for relief of the starving Russian population, especially children, in the region of the lower Volga.

Warsaw, March 10.—Delegates from Moscow arriving here to-day to participate in the hygiene conference called by the League of Nations for March 15, reported the famine-stricken people of Russia now numbered approximately 30,000,000.

They said Turkestan now was in the path of the threatened desolation, and the district of Odesa was among the most desolated parts of Russia. The "black land," which formerly was the granary of Europe, now is practically deserted, they said.

FARMER GRINDING FEED WAS KILLED

Moose Bank, Sask., March 11.—Robert Armstrong was fatally injured yesterday afternoon at Ex-pense when grinding feed. His clothes caught in the flywheel of the engine and he was whirled around several times, his head striking against the machinery. He leaves a widow, two sons and one daughter.

LIBERAL COMMITTEE MET IN OTTAWA

Optimistic Reports on Conditions in Western Provinces

Organization Details Considered; Premier in Chair

Ottawa, March 11.—Optimistic reports as to the beginning of a revival of Liberalism in the Western provinces were brought to Ottawa by delegates to the meeting of the National Liberal Committee held in the Liberal headquarters here yesterday afternoon. It was stated in the summary of the proceedings issued at the close of the meeting.

The committee accepted with regret the resignation of Andrew Hayden, general secretary, who is resuming legal practice, and appointed a committee, headed by Hon. T. A. Low, Minister without portfolio, to consider the question of choosing a successor to Mr. Hayden, and to deal with other matters of organization.

Appreciation of the work which had been accomplished in organization was voiced, and the committee, it was stated, was enthusiastic in its decision to continue the organization office here.

With Premier King in the chair, the committee dealt with a number of other matters, including an application from the Ontario Women's Liberal Club to have women represented on the committee. This was unanimously approved, and it was decided that in the case of the vacancies now existing they might be filled by either men or women appointees.

The Western provinces were represented as follows:

Manitoba—A. E. Hill, Horace Chevrier and L. St. C. Stubbs.
Saskatchewan—Hon. W. R. Mottewell and C. G. Locke, of Saskatoon.
Alberta—Hon. Frank Oliver.
British Columbia—Hon. A. M. Manson, M. A. Macdonald, C. E. Campbell and P. G. Dawson, of Prince Rupert.

ARGENTINE ANT

FOUND IN EUROPE

Rome Professor Advises Agriculturists to Destroy Pest

Rome, March 11.—Dr. Sapienza Grassi, professor of entomology in the University of Rome, yesterday called the attention of the public, especially agriculturists, to the invasion of Europe by an insect described by him as the Argentine ant. So far, he said, the insect had been discovered in Italy only in Rome and San Remo.

Dr. Grassi described the grave damages caused by the ant and gave advice for its destruction.

PATACCIO TRIAL

WAS POSTPONED

Delay in Naples; Charged With New York Murders

Naples, March 11.—The trial of Vincenzo Pataccio, alias Frank Valuzzi, which had been fixed for March 25, has been postponed indefinitely. It was announced to-day. Pataccio was arrested in Mentone, France, in March, 1920, charged with the murder of two women in New York City. The Italian Government last year refused his extradition to the United States on the ground that he was not a naturalized American citizen.

The murders for which Pataccio is accused took place in New York, March 7, 1920. Bena Spinelli and Josephine Gentile were shot during an attack on Giuseppe de Cesari, a Mulberry Street barber. The women were walking in the street when a man, who escaped before a policeman could be called, emptied a revolver in their direction. De Cesari, it developed later, was the target at whom the bullets were aimed.

WINNIPEG CARS'

EARNINGS GREW

Street Railway's Gross Income During 1921 Was $5,418,023

Winnipeg, March 11.—The gross earnings of the Winnipeg Electric Railway Company for the year ended December 31, 1921, showed an increase of $184,226.06 over the previous year, according to the report presented at the annual meeting of the company late yesterday. The net income showed an increase for the year of $132,359.41.

Sir Augustus Nanton was appointed president; A. W. McLimont, vice-president; F. Morton Morse, secretary; L. Paik, assistant secretary, and J. S. Mackenzie, treasurer.

Gross earnings from operations for the year are shown as $5,418,023.71, and operating expenses before charging depreciation as $3,559,380, leaving a net operating revenue of $1,858,643.71. With miscellaneous income of $161,406.70, the amount available to meet fixed charges is shown as $2,020,050.41.

CONFERENCE IS ### CALLED BY SWEDEN

Nations Neutral During War to Consider Genoa Subjects

Stockholm, March 10.—The Swedish Government has invited the nations that were neutral during the war to a conference for the purpose of dealing with questions in which these neutrals are jointly interested and which are likely to be dealt with by the Genoa Conference.

The Congress, which is to be held in Switzerland some time in the next two weeks, is expected to include Denmark, Norway, Holland, Sweden, Switzerland and probably Spain.

TO DEVELOP OTTAWA RIVER POWER

Montreal, March 11.—In connection with the passing of the bills of the Montreal Public Service Corporation and the Canadian Light & Power Company by the Quebec Legislature, the statement is made here, on what is supposed to be good authority, that the completed merger of these power interests will result in a capitalization of approximately $100,000,000.

With the powers now granted, the development of the Ottawa River at Carillon will be proceeded with as soon as weather conditions permit, a considerable portion of the preliminary work having been already accomplished.

It is further claimed that the consolidation will finally result in the production of upwards of 300,000 horsepower, much of which has already been contracted for. To carry the work to completion a total of $40,000,000 will be required, it is claimed, all of which will be expended during the next two years. The financial plans are well advanced.

FERRY PASSES

TO BE ISSUED

Vancouver, March 11.—The city of North Vancouver may issue passes on the municipal ferries, according to a decision of the Court of Appeal.

The case was that of H. C. Cooper against the City of North Vancouver. Mr. Hooper obtained an injunction, through the Supreme Court, restraining the city from issuing passes to residents of the city, claiming that passes were a discrimination against nonresidents of the city in the payment of ferry fares.

KILLED BY FALL.

Vancouver, March 11.—William Campbell, a longshoreman, died at the General Hospital yesterday from injuries received when he fell from a sixth-story window of the Europe Hotel at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

Fashion Lifts the Curtain on The Season's Newest Styles in Suits, Coats and Frocks For Spring

At This Store Monday and Tuesday, March the Thirteenth and Fourteenth

ON Fashion's stage are all things ready, and the scene is our Ready-to-Wear-Section. A vividness of color, a novelty of fabric, a special partiality for crepe frocks, for cape wraps, for shaggy-textured sports togs, an air of easy smartness, almost a nonchalance pervading all, hint at the enchantment of new Spring creations collected from points far and wide. Choosing a Spring wardrobe from them will prove a pleasure. We cordially invite you to come.

SOUTH AFRICA.

Such news as is coming over the cables from South Africa would appear to indicate that the general strike is beginning to resemble an armed revolt against law and order. It is too early to gather an intelligible appreciation of the latest developments; but the proclamation of martial law and reports of clashes between strikers and troops impart a sinister complexion to the events of the moment. Length of distance from the scene contributes considerably to the difficulty to any attempt to get a proper perspective of the underlying causes of the disturbance in its more serious form. None the less it can be taken for granted that the radical elements among the Labor Unions would not lack support from the extreme Nationalists. These two factions are adepts at manufacturing grievances against the Government, and if any extensive measure of imported discontent has entered into the revolt it is easy to understand something of the nature of the trouble. On the other hand nothing will be gained by extreme tactics. Premier Smuts is not the man to be forced into any position that he considers to be inimical to the best interests of the Union.

SINKING FUND GUARDIANS.

Now that the present City Council has more or less washed its hands of the sinking funds controversy by the somewhat extraordinary procedure to which we have already referred it should recognize the wisdom of appointing an independent commission to control and generally look after this part of the city's business. It should not be a difficult matter to enlist the services of two or three men who would undertake the role of inspectors and so satisfy themselves in the public interest as to the safety of funds which belong to those who have purchased the bonds of the municipality. The whole matter is simplicity itself. Each Council understands its liability and knows exactly how much should be set aside each year in order that its bonded indebtedness may be liquidated at the proper time. To utilize these funds for other purposes in the hope that something will turn up to balance things before the obligations fall due may be a perfectly safe procedure; but it is nothing short of a form of dishonesty for which many a man has gone to penal servitude. Neither this nor any other city can do business on I. O. U.'s without running the risk of serious trouble. By calling in the services of an independent commission the Council would protect itself against the temptations to which its predecessors fell victim and inspire the confidence of those to whom the municipality looks for its financial accommodation. Alderman Perry's suggestion could be acted upon without any delay whatsoever and the general public have a right to know that this much precaution has been taken to safeguard their interests and to protect the city's good name in the money markets.

NOT HIS WAY.

If The London Saturday Review were as widely read as some of the British weeklies, or even if it were something else except a rabid Tory and anti-Lloyd George Journal, it might be reasonable to give five minutes' consideration to its suggestion that the Prime Minister had come to an arrangement with Mr. Austen Chamberlain to resign at the proper time. But anyone who is at all conversant with the political complexion of The Review during the last fifteen years will realize that it is making another bid for the type of sensation that is usually denied to a periodical of its stamp. Mr. Lloyd George has promptly denied the suggestion that his henchman has his resignation in his pocket—an unnecessary denial for him to make were the existing circumstances of less political significance. On the other hand it can be taken for granted that the Prime Minister is the last man in the world to adopt this peculiarly favored modern expedient. When he is ready to step down he will leave by the front door and his gait will not be faltering. If he chooses to carry on is there any possibility of a rush for his job in view of developments during the last forty-eight hours?

EDUCATION AND ECONOMY.

Most people realize that dividends paid by national appropriations for education cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents. Nor is the argument confined to any part of the world; it is because of its universal acceptance that all the more influential newspapers and men of important public standing in Great Britain to-day are sparing no sentiment in denouncing the suggestion of the Geddes Committee that the education programme of the Motherland be attacked with the economy axe. There is nothing pleasing in taking Germany as an example of progress through a national recognition of the value of education in all its branches. We can separate the militaristic conception of culture from the basic values with which technical training is endowed. Germany's industrial activity—apart from its superficial prosperity—has been made possible by her possession of a preponderance of trained minds. Will anybody seriously contend that in twenty years' time she will regret her increased appropriations for education that were actually made at a stage when the Mark had almost dropped out of sight on the New York market?

It is hardly worth while considering some of the fatuous theories that are advanced by those who seem to believe that proponents of higher education are merely concerned with the finding of lucrative positions for a surplus of technical experts. But it is permitted to ask what body dare constitute itself a commission in any democratic country for the operation of a system which would permit advanced education to be given only "to those who are qualified to benefit by it."

Who is to determine who is able to qualify to benefit by anything until the individual has had the opportunity to demonstrate his own capacity? Is not the process of elimination to take its course in the case of education? Or are we to replace our present system of equal opportunity by something which was supposed to do justice to the cause of learning in mid-Victorian days?

DENTAL CLINICS.

During the last ten years medical research has traced the cause of numerous physical ailments to defective teeth and their improper care. It is not an uncommon thing in these days for the victim of some chronic disease to be told that his teeth must be removed before he may be permitted to get the full benefit of the prescribed treatment. The average individual has neither the time nor the capacity to grasp the scientific significance of this apparently drastic procedure; he satisfies himself that the course has been a correct one when he recognizes the general improvement in his condition. It is therefore reasonable to assume that if the offending molars had been properly attended to before they had begun to show signs of wear and tear much of the after trouble might have been avoided. The Department of Public Health in this Province acknowledges this theory as fact and is fully alive to the necessity of dental clinics in public schools. It goes without saying that establishments of this kind are costly adjuncts to an already costly educational system; but the fact remains that if the health of the youngster is to be safeguarded against the dangers which are associated with indifference towards this important aspect of public health the remedy must be found. The state gets its value from the preservation of the human asset, and those who doubt the wisdom of oral hygiene in the case of young or old may have any scepticism removed by attending a public lecture that will be delivered by Dr. Harry S. Thomson, head of the Dental Research Department of the University of Toronto, at the High School next Monday evening. This important event will take place under the auspices of the Provincial Board of Health and should be well attended.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Twenty-one members of the League of Nations have not paid their subscriptions for last year. But if it had been an organization for the perpetuation of naval and military tournaments there would not have been a defaulting member.

One of the members of the Liquor Control Board seems to have conveyed the idea to one of the Vancouver newspapers that the cost of "hard stuff" and beer is to be reduced in the near future. Premier Oliver replies to the effect that he knows nothing about it. If, as we understand it to be the case, the Government fixes the price of its liquid wares, why are the hopes of the advocates of Moderation keyed upon without warrant?

Sixty-four-year-old Jerry O'Hara was arraigned in the Police Court of Chicago yesterday on a charge of standing at the street corner and using language aloud that shocked all hearers. But O'Hara merely explained to the Judge that he was quoting Shakespeare and was discharged. Those who want to get a new thrill out of the works of the Bard of Avon may employ their spare time in discovering the passages which had such an appeal for Mr. O'Hara.

IS NARCOTIC DRUG DIRECTED BY WHITE MEN

 rule the criminals have Canadian domicile, that is, have been five years or more residents of this country. If this can be proved by the person it is desired to deport, he cannot, of course, be held.
 "I may also say, for your information, that in dealing with the cases of Chinese convicted for the illicit handling of drugs, the department has also experienced great difficulty in proving that the original entry of these parties has been within the period under which deportation may be effected. This is due to the fact that in the large majority of cases the Chinese either give false information with regard to their admission to Canada, or are not convicted under their proper names, and when examined by an officer of the department, give names other than those under which they were admitted to this country. Consequently their original arrival cannot easily be traced."
 That the illicit drug traffic is the work of a well organized and clever chain of men is the consensus of opinion of the various police authorities voiced in The Times to-day.

White Men Gain.
 Otway Wilkie, of the Provincial Police, went a stage further and stated positively that a few white men were fostering much of this illicit drug traffic for their personal gain. Some of the white people in the illicit traffic are prominent men in good social standing, Mr. Wilkie averred.
Traffic is Increasing.
 Inspector Shoebottom, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, stated positively that the traffic on this seaboard was increasing.
 Detective Sergeant O'Leary, of the City force, stated that the traffic was still much in evidence, but had become harder to detect since the conviction and heavy sentences imposed on peddlers in the last few cases.
"Higher Ups" Untouched.
 That most of the offenders before him in the City Police Court were "runners" and not the "higher ups" was the opinion of Magistrate George Jay, who added that no one had yet been able to get at the fountain head of the illicit supply of drugs.

Many Convictions.
 Fifteen white people were charged during the year 1921 with peddling drugs illicitly, under the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act, while only one was acquitted, in Victoria. In the same period some 33 Chinese were convicted of a like offence.
Leaders Keep Secret.
 All police officials pointed to the difficulty of tracing the higher levels of the drug traffic, the existence of which appears to be generally credited. Time after time in the city and district courts offenders have been charged upon evidence that pointed to one or other source of supply, but just fell short of the actual disclosure.

Probable Method Used.
 To take three indicative cases, all of which occurred within the last six months, the system in general use for the handling of the illicit drugs here has been suggested.
 The Royal Canadian Mounted Police searched a truck load of vegetables and other produce landed from a steamer at the Outer Wharf, and being consigned to a series of addresses in Chinatown. Some $5,000 worth of morphine was found on the truck, packed in oranges.
Drugs For Asking.
 The city detectives brought up a man for trial in which it was stated that he had answered to a telephone call for heroin and morphine, responding to the summons in person, apparently being a runner.

Made Regular Calls.
 In the beginning of this year a man was charged in the city court with supplying the drug. The evidence stated that he had been seen making regular deliveries in Victoria. Went. The evidence in this case was absolute, and the man was sentenced to eighteen months in jail.

System On Ships.
 That the drugs were coming from the Orient, and that a regular system of transit existed on the vessels crossing the Pacific was the opinion of one official, who stated that he had ample proof of the existence of a complete organization for planting the drugs in cargo shipments.

Sentences Grow.
 Interviewed on the amendments to the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act of 1921, Magistrate Jay told The Times that under the former section a man convicted of unlawful possession, manufacturing, selling or distributing any drug illicitly could be fined from $200 to $1,000, or sentenced to one year in jail, or both fine and imprisonment.

Under the amended section of the act an offender upon indictment is liable to seven years in jail or a fine or from $200 to $1,000, or both fine and imprisonment. Upon summary conviction an offender is now liable to eighteen months in jail, a fine, or both fine and imprisonment.
 Mr. Wilkie thinks there is a regular system of getting narcotics off the steamers, and managers of the ring using degenerate as runners. In turn those runners make other degenerate, he believes.

FORMER ALDERMAN

DIED THIS MORNING

Henry Cooley Was Owner of Sheet Metal Works

Henry Cooley, a former member of the Victoria City Council and a resident of the city for the past thirty-five years, died at his home, 37 Menzies street, this morning at the age of 78 years.

The late Mr. Cooley was born in London, England, and came to this city in 1887. He was elected an alderman to the City Council in 1900 and remained in office for two years. He was well-known as the owner of the Victoria Sheet Metal Works. His widow and seven children survive. Alfred, of Honolulu; Harry and William, of this city; Mrs. E. W. Mills, of Stocton, Cal.; Mrs. Basil Prescott, of El Paso, Texas; Mrs. J. Mason Adams, of Smithers; Mrs. W. Gardiner, of this city, also sixteen grandchildren. A woman whose name we are not permitted to mention, says she has used Pacific Milk for years, never during the time buying more than a few pints of fresh milk. They use Pacific for everything. However, the interesting point in her letter is that last week was the first time she had ever seen the dairy herds in the Ladner district. She says that now she understands WHY Pacific Milk is so good.

BIRD LOVERS.

To the Editor:—I have often heard it said that the fields lying between Shelbourne Street and Richmond Road are the only places in B.C. and probably in Canada, where one can hear the English skylark. This area, as we all know, is not allowed to be shot over, so it has become a sanctuary, not only for the skylark but quail, pheasants, and partridge as well.

Can nothing be done to prevent the dogs of the neighborhood from hunting in these fields? Living at one corner of this property, I know better than most the incalculable damage that must be done to bird life by wandering canines. Some people think that when they have paid their license their dogs are free to roam the country at will. It will be a great pity if these dogs are to be allowed to rob us of our skylark, which, if no steps are taken, they certainly will do.

A COUNTRY RUBEE.

To the Editor:—As I was cranking my old bus to come to Victoria on Thursday noon my old friend Bill asked me to leave a parcel for the Dominion Empress Company. The parcel contained water color paintings which were to be forwarded to a friend down East. There is no need to discuss the paintings at present, but Bill wanted them insured. The parcel was well wrapped and bound with strong cord, and I was surprised to find the Express Co. refuse the parcel on the grounds of insufficient wrapping. Not wishing to worry Bill I took the parcel to a well-known shipping house in the city, and had them crate it and wrap it efficiently. On returning to the Express office, it was still refused on account of insufficient wrapping, although the shipping house above mentioned was sending out identical parcels every day in the week. Then I saw some light and got Bill on the phone and said I guessed the insurance was in the way and would waive it. Bill didn't want to, but eventually agreed, and it seems I was right, as the Express Co. took it at once and weighed it. At such a small parcel the cost of expressing was now $3.50, which I knew Bill would kick at, so I took off the boards which the shipping company had put on and handed it in again. Although now well corded and packed, and superior to many parcels which were being handled in right there and then, the Express Company refused it the third time, probably took umbrage at losing the lumber freight. So I took out again with the idea of dropping it off the wharf when I saw a red auto van dash by on which was painted the magic letters O. H. M. S. I got Bill on the wire right away, "Bill," I yelled, "what about the mail?" "Well," drawled Bill, "I guess the female of the species is more deadly than—" "Cut that out," I yelled, "I mean the Post Office. Shall I take your parcel to the Post Office? It'll go for half the money and go to-day. Is it a go?" Bill said to make it a "go" and it was.

HOW TO DEVELOP SOOKE.

To the Editor:—This association would ask you to give them a little space in your columns to lay before the powers-that-be the very serious suggestion made by the heading in your last evening's issue as to there being "No Hope For Sooke Service" given on the Canadian National Railway passing through the Sooke Harbor District.

The possibilities for the development of this splendid harbor have been too much overlooked in the past. Sooke Harbor is one of the most lovely districts on Southern Vancouver Island, and the oldest settled locality, yet for lack of cheaper transportation facilities it has been the least developed.

Only by one of two things, or both, can this unique district come to its own name:

1. A regular service twice a day or more on the Canadian National Railway at rates within the reach of all.

2. An extension of the paved road from Colwood to Sooke Harbor.

Thousands of dollars have been in-

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The School Board decided last night to submit a money by-law to the electors to raise $17,000 for the repair of the Central and High Schools. The City Council refused to ratify this expenditure.
 The City Council has under consideration amendments to the Municipal Act which would make the qualification of school trustees similar to those of aldermen. The aldermen declare that trustees who own no property are voting away city money.
 The C.P.N. Co. is considering the advisability of placing a steamer on what may be called the Island route to secure for Victoria her fair share of the growing trade with Texada.

vested in the Sooke Harbor District by settlers during the last twelve years in anticipation of the operation of the Canadian National (or, as it was at first known, the Canadian Northern) Railway, and still the line lies idle with a gang of men employed in the upkeep of the road and bridges.

Cheaper transportation is essential. The excellent service of Auto-Stages over the Provincial road cannot operate any cheaper either for passengers or for freight under present conditions, and we have no axes to grind in this connection. Yet under existing conditions the district cannot go ahead and develop as it richly deserves.

It should be possible for the man with a family occasionally to enjoy a visit to Victoria, and likewise for the family man in the City to take his wife and children to enjoy the beauties of such a district as Sooke Harbor, a distance of less than twenty-five miles. It should be possible with a completed railroad for the tourist or visitor from the Prairie to take a trip to Sooke Harbor, to enjoy a day on the four square miles of protected salt water in the inner basin with its beautiful little islands and wonderful coves, to take a trip to the Sooke River Falls—one of the beauty spots on the island, or to visit the lovely Sooke Bay, where a full view of the open Pacific is obtained with a panoramic vision of the snow-capped Olympics, the beauty of which any words fail to describe. This is not possible without considerable expense under existing conditions. This district is specifically a locality for the small holder, for intensive farming, for the self-supporting home, and for the man with a small income who wishes to retire to enjoy the pleasures of fishing, hunting and other forms of recreation in a unique climate with unsurpassed natural beauty. The sooner this is realized the quicker will Southern Vancouver Island develop and present conditions will do all in their power to bring this about as speedily as possible.

Announces its Arrival with a Brilliant Company of Smart New Fashions and Fabrics

In Order That All May Enjoy an Early Knowledge of the Prevailing Fashions for Spring, 1922, We Have Made Arrangements for a Demonstration of the Leading Styles in a GRAND FASHION PARADE

In Our Tearoom, on Monday and Tuesday from 3 to 5 p. m.
At intervals from 3 to 4 and from 4 to 5 o'clock.

The parade will take the form of a "Tea Chantant" in which will be introduced a "Lyric of Spring" by four little girls. The great feature of the occasion, however, will be the display by "Maniquins" of the new Spring styles in Gowns, Coats, Suits, Millinery, Shoes, etc.; illustrating how they should be worn to the best advantage by particular types.

Coats, Suits and Gowns featuring the very latest innovations popular in Paris and New York, will be prominent in the display. Millinery, depicting the newest Spring shapes, fashionable fabrics, trimmings and colorings, will be displayed, so as to give you a clear understanding of the prevailing modes.

Shoes from our great resources of fashionable footwear, will also be on exhibition; featuring just the type of shoes you should wear with a suit or gown of a particular model.

During the parade, Captain C. H. Christie, the popular baritone, will sing, accompanied by Messrs. Wade and Press, on piano and violin.

Every Department Will Have Special Attractions for You During This Week of Fashion Display

In the Mantle Department you will find the display one of the most interesting you have inspected. The newest in Sports Wear, Suits, Coats and Afternoon and Evening Gowns. All of popular materials and best of all they are most moderately priced.

The display of new style Blouses and Sweaters will hold your attention; the styles are so attractive and smart—the product of good judgment and expert designers.

And be sure to inspect our Shoe display, where you will see all the latest shapes and styles in smart footwear. The distinctive models in strap shoes, handsome oxfords and fancy, dress shoes.

A visit to the Whitewear section will be an education in what is new, and select in the finest silk and satin lingerie, muslins and other fine grade Whitewear.

Our Windows also tell the story of how successful have been our efforts in securing the best for your selection.

Tables May Be Reserved During the Fashion Displays

Special efforts have been made by the Tearoom management, for handling the large crowds who will attend the fashion parade. A menu including sandwiches, cakes, ice cream, tea and coffee will be served, and tables may be reserved from 3 till 4 p. m. and from 4 till 5 p. m. on Monday and Tuesday, by applying to Mrs. Harvey, phone 2433. The price being 50¢ a seat.

Table holders are notified that they must be at their tables promptly at 3 o'clock for the first display and promptly at 4 p. m. for the second—or tables cannot be held.

Y.W.C.A. CONTINUES SPLENDID WORK

Satisfactory Reports at the Monthly Meeting of Board
Yesterday

Yesterday afternoon the Board of Directors of the Y. W. C. A. met at the Association, 745 Yates, for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Bishop, the president, opening the meeting with devotional exercises.

Owing to sickness in the family Miss Fawcett, the recording secretary, had been called to Duncan, and was therefore unable to be present at the meeting and Miss M. Hall was appointed secretary pro tem.

Among the correspondence read was a letter from the Committee on Social Welfare asking for two representatives to a meeting which is being held at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, March 15, Mrs. J. L. Beckwith and Mrs. James Fletcher being elected.

All reports were of a satisfactory nature, that of the house recording 2,902 meals served, 66 transient and 29 permanent guests entertained. The matter of a "Progressive Dinner" was more fully discussed but was held over until further detailed information, as regards the carrying out of this scheme successfully was obtained.

The Travellers' Aid reported 126 boats and 27 trains met, and 18 people assisted. Contributions to this work were received during the month from the following organizations: First Presbyterian Church, Ladies' Aid, Metchosin, W. L. Metropolitan Methodist Church, L. A. Florence Nightingale Chapter, I. O. D. E., and Women's Canadian Club.

Mrs. Peter McNaughton kindly extended an invitation to the directorate to spend a social afternoon at her home, Gordon Head, early in April, in order that new and old members might become better acquainted.

The Religious Committee spoke highly of Miss Nellie Elliott's recent visit which had been an inspiration to all who had the pleasure of meeting and hearing Miss Elliott speak so enthusiastically of her work among the educated Chinese women. The Y. W. C. A. in Hongkong is a very live issue and doing splendid work, with a keen vision reaching out into broader fields. It is a great factor in helping to mould the character of the Chinese women spiritually, intellectually, physically and socially.

Arrangements have been made for speakers for the Sunday afternoon Vesper service and a small Bible study class has been formed to meet on Monday evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock, to which any interested young women is cordially invited.

A questionnaire from the World's Committee entitled "The Interpretation of Christ to Young Women Today" and "The Association's Response to Their Practical Needs," which will be dealt with by the World's Y. W. C. A. Commission, at Saltburg, June 10-16, 1922, was read, but this being of such an important nature a committee was nominated to meet and go into the matter thoroughly.

Another communication from the Dominion Council, of the Y. W. C. A., dealing with the Triennial Convention, to be held in Toronto, May 16 to 20, was also discussed and left in the hands of the executive.

The board were very pleased to hear of the continued favorable progress of Mrs. E. M. Smith, one of the members who is very ill at St. Joseph's Hospital, the members expressing themselves desirous of contributing towards purchasing flowers to be sent from the meeting to Mrs. Smith expressing their deep regard. The following memberships were received during the month: Miss Munro, Miss Jean Coates, Miss Margaret Fletcher, Mrs. Young, Mrs. Atkinson, Mrs. Brockbank, Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Mrs. Knapman and Mrs. Stephenson.

HUDSON BAY WILL HOLD FASHION SHOW

Latest Styles to Be Displayed
by Mannequins Monday and Tuesday

With the first hint of Spring in the air and the first showing above the earth of crocuses, snowdrops and other early Spring blossoms, a woman's thoughts turn naturally to the age-old but ever new question of clothes. With a view to helping in the solution of the problem, the Hudson's Bay Company is arranging to hold a fashion parade on Monday and Tuesday from 3 to 4.30 p.m. at its spacious store, when "la derniere cri" from Paris, New York and London will be displayed in their proper settings by graceful mannequins. A three-piece orchestra will be in attendance each afternoon.

To accommodate the big crowd which is expected, the second floor ready-to-wear and millinery sales will be cleared of merchandise and a platform is being erected the length of the floor. The platform will be at a height of about two feet from the floor, so that every spectator will be enabled to get an unobstructed view of the parading mannequins. These mannequins are being recruited from the regular staff of the store, the management justly priding itself upon the fact that girls of the grace and beauty essential to the display of the many models are available among its own employees.

Coats, capes, suits, hats, shoes and the thousand and one accessories essential to the well-dressed woman will be displayed. Not only is the advent of Spring evident in the ready-to-wear and millinery sections, but every department in the store, including the well-dressed woman, is showing the latest merchandise form all the great markets of the world.

In the department devoted to silks and dress goods, materials fit for a princess are being shown at a price low enough to tempt the most moderate purse. Dame fashion predicts a

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

Popular Young Couple to Be Married This Month

Mr. R. T. Elliott, K.C., and Mrs. Elliott, of Summit Avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Isabelle Sophia, to Roland Gilbert Christy, of Victoria. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride on March 25.

The bride is a popular member of the younger set. A native daughter of Victoria, she is a gifted pianist, having studied music and singing at the famous Castle School, New York and also at Oakland, California. The bridegroom, although in his early twenties, has a brilliant war record and is now manager of the investment department at Gillespie, Hart & Todd's. He was born in Sao Paulo, Brazil, and went to England in 1901. Although he had only just attained his sixteenth birthday he immediately joined the 7th Battalion and served with it continuously through all its engagements until September, 1918, when he joined the Royal Air Force, receiving a commission. On returning to Victoria he worked energetically for the Aerial League and under its auspices gave a "stunting" exhibition in the air.

feature of these annual gatherings. Representatives of the pioneer families of Victoria have been invited to attend and a number of addresses will be given.

The Misses Macdonald, of Cormorant Point, Gordon Head, entertained on Friday night with four tables of bridge in honor of Mrs. Matheson, of Winnipeg, and of their brother, Mr. J. D. Macdonald, of Saskatoon, who has been spending the winter at the Coast.

The spice of novelty is being introduced into its Spring opening by Messrs. Angus Campbell & Co., Government Street, for that enterprising firm has arranged to stage a fashion parade with living models at the Capitol Theatre on Wednesday evening in conjunction with the "movie" show. In this beautiful setting with elaborate lighting effects and to the accompaniment of soft music, graceful mannequins will display to the best advantage alluring sports clothes, suits, capes and the many etceteras of a woman's toilette. Fuller details of the fashion show will be announced later.

New arrivals at the Dominion Hotel: Mr. Geo. O. Love, of Lethbridge; Mr. John E. Reekie and Mr. K. McK. Wright, of Kelowna; Mr. M. J. T. Hall, of Chilliwack; Mr. W. T. Jago, of Coquitlam; Mr. Myles Morley and Mrs. Morley of Fraser Lake; Mr. A. C. Crozier, of Port Alberni; Mr. Parker Williams, of Ladysmith; Dr. W. Dykes and Mrs. Dykes, of Duncan; Mr. R. M. Smith, of Soanemo; Dr. W. P. Horsfall, of Cowichan; Dr. and Mrs. Harding and son, Mr. J. A. Anderson, of Port Alberni; Mr. H. T. Tynman, Mr. Edgar Bloomfield, Mr. S. Jamieson, Mr. F. Etherington and Mrs. Etherington, Mr. and Mrs. Chesler, Mr. T. D. Thompson, Misses A. and M. McGregor, Mr. A. N. Gorman and Mrs. Quinn and family, of Vancouver.

An old form of social gathering was revived by Mrs. J. O. Cameron, Moss Street, when on Friday afternoon she was hostess at an old-fashioned quilting party given in honor of Miss Isabelle Elliott, whose wedding takes place this month. Upon the completion of a fluffy comforter, a most delicious tea was served.

Mr. T. E. Peterson and Mrs. Peterson, of Port Angeles; Mr. R. A. Peterson, of Grant's Pass, Oregon; Mr. J. R. Hensell and Mrs. Hensell, of Tacoma; Mr. T. C. Elliott, of Seattle, are registered at the Dominion Hotel.

On Tuesday afternoon, March 14, at the Empress Hotel, the Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., will hold its annual celebration of the landing of Sir James Douglas, in accordance with its motto to "Keep One Hand on the Traditions of the Past and Green the Memory of our illustrious Dead." The affair will be under the distinguished patronage of the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Nichol. George G. Busby will preside and will read the dedicatory poem which is a year of fashions of gorgeous hues, and the many beautiful colors in hats, materials and garments displayed at the Hudson's Bay Company store are suggestive of all the pristine beauty of a Spring garden.

IN BEEF

AT THE END OF THE RAINBOW

By Nancibelle Hale

Another Fascinating Romance by the Authoress of "A Gambler in Beauty."

What should she do? Obviously nothing could be done but advertise and rent the apartment, telephone the storage people, and go to work Monday, instead of Thursday as planned. There would be a loss of some rent on the apartment, though Judith's check would take care of that. But she found she didn't like the idea of giving up the pretty, newly decorated apartment. She had begun to feel a proprietary interest in it, and had enjoyed planning this home in which she was to have a distinct place, even though she wouldn't actually live there.

Then suddenly a very mad notion seized her. Why shouldn't she take the place and furnish it with the goods she had saved at the time John Baxter's death? She had enough furniture for the living room, two bedrooms, dining room and kitchen—yes, for everything but the servant's room. Her maid in the Greenwell Village apartment had always "slept out" as her apartment there had not provided for their quarters. But at this time, furniture for the maid's room was the least of her worries. Goodness knew that if she took this expensive apartment she'd have to be her own maid. It wouldn't be altogether easy in connection with her office position, but she could manage it some way.

With a pencil and paper she did some figuring. Yes, she could do it on her salary, and there didn't seem to be any real reason for her not doing so. She would rent one of the bedrooms to some desirable woman. That would reduce the rent considerably. And then later, when her salary had increased (she had been promised a raise inside of six months if she made good) she'd have a maid and live like regular folks. It wasn't the picture of domestic bliss which had recently appealed to her with such force, but it would mean no more shabby hotels, or hotels more expensive than she could afford; no more cramped quarters, but six rooms and two baths all her own. What luxury!

It was almost too good to be true, and yet was even now within her grasp. It wouldn't be practical to cook more than breakfasts there as she needed all her time and energy for the new job, but on Sundays she'd revel in the "porcelain lined" kitchen.

Yes, it not only could be managed, but would be. She had no notion of letting that home get out of her grasp.

There was telephoning to be done, but only so far as the changes in the furniture were concerned. Plans for the apartment could go forward "as is" and by the time she took up her position on Thursday it would be from her own home.

What a pity Anabelle wasn't in New York, she thought. Margaret would have liked to live in the attractive apartment, too. Oh well, there were other women who wanted just such places and who'd be agreeable to have around.

It had figured out splendidly on paper, even though the rent was high. When we really want anything, figures have a trick of twisting themselves into accommodating shapes and the "things which are seen" do not actually stand for the things which do not yet appear. But at least it looked sufficiently reasonable for Margaret to go ahead planning in detail, confident all was well.

For her wanderings in France, even if she hadn't furnished the money to make this enterprise possible? Though that would necessitate having a maid. Well, then, she'd have one.

So the extra furniture was bought at once and on Tuesday the maid was established.

She was a colored girl, small though middle aged, and her name was Evangeline. According to her stories, she had a strange and eventful past. Previous to her "maiding" she had been not only a chorus girl but a snake-charmer. The latter story didn't seem altogether unreasonable, but it was a little hard to swallow the chorus girl idea. But she knew a great deal about the ways of stage folks, Margaret found, and decided she at least had been lady's maid to an actress at some time in her life.

Margaret dubbed her "The Phonograph" because of her tendency toward loquacity, and since she had no other companion, allowed Evangeline to perform considerably more than she knew was proper, according to Mrs. Grundy's definition of etiquette concerning mistress and maid.

For the most part, Evangeline was good natured, though her "steady" a Pullman porter, caused her considerable grief because of his "trifling ways." She loved to dramatize her emotions, and though Margaret appeared to furnish the sympathy weren't actually necessary.

The new work proved to be more strenuous than she imagined, and every night when she went to her home a feeling of thanksgiving would come. The luxury of sitting down to a cooked dinner with a capable maid to wait upon her, and everything about the place designed for her comfort, was gratifying indeed.

But after the first week when the novelty had worn off a bit, she began to feel very lonely. The thing for which she had longed so earnestly was beginning to become "gall and wormwood"—at least it didn't wholly satisfy.

"A home isn't a bunch of furniture," she sadly admitted. "It takes people. It takes a husband—and children, perhaps. I suppose Anabelle might serve as a desirable companion, but then, while I wasn't exactly lonely with Judith, I was always restless. And, of course, I loved Judith more than I could any other woman."

Then again she found her thoughts turning to Paul Howe, and resolutely tore them away. Why, she had practically forgotten him. Was he always to bob up like this, helping to make her unsettled and dissatisfied with what the present had to offer her? It was absolutely silly to imagine he would solve the problem of human restlessness or dissatisfaction for her. She remembered a conversation she once had with Judith and how she had said, "And after I've met him, we'll have a little home in the country somewhere, and live happily ever after," to which Judith had replied: "Nothing to worry about—a place free from problems. My dear, you're not talking of marriage and the country—you're speaking of heaven."

Yes, Judith was right. Happiness was a "thing within." Homes didn't bring happiness, no matter how complete and desirable—and, no doubt, husbands would be the same. Paul Howe would probably worry her to death, once she had married him, would undoubtedly just bring new problems into her life. She'd better spend her time in being glad he had answered her letter instead of wondering why he hadn't wishing that he had.

Yet it was horrid of him to leave her up in the air this way. Her letter had borne a return-in-three-days label upon it, and it had now been two weeks. Without a question of doubt he had received it. Her proposition hadn't appealed to him, of course, but he could have written and told her so in some humorous fashion that would have let him out gracefully without actually ignoring her.

She was startled by the sound of the door bell. Evangeline answered the ring, then brought her a telegram. Margaret read it, then read it again, trying to comprehend what she had read, trying to get a grip on herself. A queer numb feeling had taken possession of her.

HALIFAX EXPLOSION
W RECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N. S. Harbor and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying a large portion of the city in ruins, and causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves. She writes as follows:—"I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves so that I could not do my housework. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care."

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely relieved. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend our MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS as the best remedy to tone up the entire nervous system and strengthen the weakened organs. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the original heart and nerve food having been on the market for the past 27 years. Price, 50c a box, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. MONEY ORDERHEALTH CENTRE IS AGAIN DEBATEDSaanich Central Ratepayers
Expect Result From AgitationConstitution Discussed With
But Small Progress

Locked out of the Saanich Municipal Hall as a sequel to a mistake as to dates, the Saanich Central Ratepayers' Association was last night extended the courtesy of accommodation at the Royal Oak Hotel, in order that its scheduled session might not be abandoned. Wards Three and Six were unrepresented.

Delegates who had waited upon the Council to secure information as to the Health Centre reported, stressing the general attitude of the councillors as being in favor of a change in control methods and operations undertaken at the Centre. "We had a sympathetic hearing," commented H. H. Grist, "and I think we will not have to interfere again."

"The Council is fully alive to the situation, its members have been stirred up effectively," he said. W. H. Nix summarized results as, "we did more than get information, we caused the authorities to get a move on."

Constitution Discussed. After being laid over at two previous sessions, the proposed new Ward Association constitution, planned to secure uniformity, was discussed after A. Francis of Ward One had urged no further postponement. He declared that at present the various associations do not represent all the ratepayers and residents, as was proven by wild schemes in most wards and organization of a rival body in one ward.

Early Disagreement. Controversy arose over the initial clause defining association names. It was proposed that the ward should be specified, whereupon Mr. Nix pointed out that influential bodies would possibly arise, composed of dissenters from the recognized Ward Association, who would welcome affiliation if not barred. The initial step by a defined title already in use by the first body in the field.

"The new body might grow to twenty times the strength of the original body, it may call itself the Tillamook or McKenzie Ratepayers' or anything else, and so be barred from joining in because some little body already has the official name. We cannot specify the title," said Mr. Nix.

It being protested that debate on this point would take hours and forestall dealing with more important paragraphs, Mr. Nix reported, "That just my point, this is too big a matter for this body to deal with."

G. Robinson, of Ward Five, urged the principle of "give and take," citing the need of admitting to membership any man whose property is in the name of his wife. "As to this demand for a membership fee, I believe it is absolutely wrong," he said. J. W. Fullbrook declared, "because I wanted a vote I went and bought some property" in the course of a short address on finances. "To make provision for dissenting bodies to come into this Central, I'm against it, I favor including the ward number in naming the Associations," he said. On finance methods Mr. Fullbrook declared: "If a dollar is going to keep them out, God help us, because a whiparound at meetings means a few pay the whole shot."

Unemployed Mentioned. J. Jones urged the hardship of requiring "even two bits" admission fee, stating three hundred or more of work ratepayers lacked even shoes for their children.

"If three hundred families lack shoes, then the fathers had better spend their time hustling, rather than attending meetings," retorted Mr. Fullbrook.

Chairman Collis brought the discussion back normal with an appeal for uniformity, either all charging membership dues or all being free.

Mr. Nix declared, "the whole thing comes down to who is eligible. Ward Four is the most powerful association of all of them, and half our members are not ratepayers." The inclusion of the ward number in the title was then adopted without a dissenting vote.

No Definite Meeting.

Mr. Nix and Mr. Jones urged that wide membership should be kept to the fore, the former moving that each ward association define the meaning of ratepayer to its own satisfaction.

This carrying, without opposition, Chairman Collis declared the time allotted had been consumed, further clauses being deferred to a later session.

We Extend to You a Cordial Invitation

The foremost designers of Women's Garment Fashions have prepared some very interesting ideas for the Spring season. These ideas will be specially featured in our displays of the accepted mode for Spring, 1922

Never Before so Many Smart Coats and Wraps

The new Wraps and Coats are indeed beautiful, not only silhouette but in quality. Every style is presented here, from the short jaunty coat for sports wear to the wrappy looking model for festivity.

Fabrics include tricotines, silk Bolivia cloths, silk duvetyns, velours and polo cloths.

The colors are such as will meet with approval from the most critical.

Spring Frocks Have Many Silhouettes

All are fashionable, all are sponsored by Paris, all are achieved in a most wonderful manner. Truly impressive is the display. The Grecian type with its classic straight effect, the rippling fullness of the circular skirt, the Russian blouse models; all are different in silhouette yet all show a tendency to the longer waist. The fabrics are taffeta, Canton crepe, Krepeknit and beautiful Paisley silks.

DIED IN AUSTRIAW. A. Baillie-Grohman Was
Pioneer in Kootenay
Reclamation

W. A. Baillie-Grohman, a well known resident of Victoria in the early eighties, died suddenly on November 27th last at Schloss Matzen, Bruckberg, his home in the Austrian Tyrol. Mr. Baillie-Grohman was well known as a big game hunter in Wyoming and B. C. and was the author of several works on this subject. His book, "Sport and Life in Western America and British Columbia" is perhaps best known to British Columbians.

He and his wife were early pioneers in the Kootenays in the early eighties and he was one of the principals in events which led to the famous Hamill murder at the Bluebell mine on Kootenay Lake. It was during his visits on game hunting into the Kootenays that he first came in contact with the well known Kootenay Flats and was the first man to investigate the possibilities of reclaiming this area. In 1885 he constructed the well known canal at Canal Flats in the Columbia Valley which proposed to turn the waters of the Kootenay into the Columbia, and later he carried out considerable work at Grohman Creek rapids on the Kootenay River below Nelson in connection with the same undertaking.

Mr. Baillie-Grohman never lost his interest in B. C. as a whole and the progress made towards bringing about Kootenay Flats reclamation. Since the war he devoted his attention to giving relief to the poverty stricken mountaineers of the Austrian Tyrol and along with other members of the Alpine Club at London was instrumental in organizing the Tyrolean Relief Fund, which has distributed many thousands in relief in that country, in which work Mr. Baillie-Grohman was engaged when he died.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Illustrated Lecture and Irish Concert
Under Auspices Presbyterian
Ladies' Aid.

The Ladies' Aid Society of First Presbyterian Church, with the view of worthily celebrating Ireland's patron saint's birthday, has secured the services of Mr. J. G. Brown to deliver his lecture on Ireland, which will be illustrated by a large number of beautifully colored lantern slides, made in Victoria by A. S. Huxtable, from paintings and photos supplied by Mr. Brown. These pictures in themselves are an artistic treat as well as an interesting and enjoyable trip through Ireland.

this particular line will be sure to draw a large attendance. A number of the best vocalists in the city will assist by singing a number of the choicest Irish songs.

Among those contributing selections are Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Lock, Mrs. Edmonds; Messrs. G. Guy, R. Morrison, and H. A. Beckwith, with Mrs. Lewis Hall as accompanist.

This triple treat of picture, song and story will be given in the auditorium of First Presbyterian Church on Friday evening, March 17, at 8 o'clock.

WINTER WEATHER
HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian Winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little ones out for an airing. The consequence is that the baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little ones healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulates the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. (Adv.)

Esquimalt Women's Institute.—At the meeting of the Esquimalt Women's Institute to be held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday evening at 7.30, Mrs. J. D. Gordon will speak of conditions in the rural communities and will also give a demonstration of apron-making. C. Munslow will give some hints on Spring gardening. A vote will be taken on the extraordinary resolution for adopting the Institute by-laws.

Obstinate Door Blamed.—Regret was this morning expressed by Saanich municipal officials because of the inconvenience to which the members of the Saanich Central Ratepayers' association were subjected last night, through inability to hold its session at Royal Oak in the council chamber of the Municipal Hall, as has been customary. It was stated that an arrangement had been made with the janitor for the entry door to the hall to be left open, without the presence of the janitor. This was done, it is said, but apparently something jammed the door and the delegates could not open it, though the janitor reported the door open this morning.

Dramatic Performance.—The large audience at Temple's Hall, Victoria, last evening showed its appreciation when the Western Star Dramatic Society repeated the rural comedy, "Aaron Slick From Punkin Creek," under the auspices of the A.O.U.W. Lodge No. 7. The characters in the play were sustained as follows: Aaron Slick, by Mr. A. J. Clunk; William Merridew, by Mr. A. W. Semple; Clarence Green, by Mr. W. Clunk; Mrs. Rosie Berry, by Miss Rosie Hasenfratz; Gladys May Merridew, by Miss Violet Harper; the Girl in Red, by Miss E. Brindley; and Sis Riggs, by Miss Ethel Kennedy.

Esquimalt Friendly Help.—The Friendly Help Society of Esquimalt held its monthly meeting in the Sailors' Club yesterday, when the regular reports were read. Nineteen requests were shown in the number of families receiving help. A few have secured employment and were dropped from the list. Donations were acknowledged as follows: Esquimalt Chapter, L. O. D. E., $25; Mrs. H. Croft, $25; Mrs. Pooley, $30; dues, $2; Mrs. R. S. Ross, clothing and shoes; Mrs. Clark, clothing and boots; People's Grocery, Esquimalt, a large collection of groceries; Gibson's Shoe Store, seven pairs of shoes and rubbers; A. Friend, milk daily; A. Friend, hot midday lunch for several school children; Mrs. (Col.) Hall, hand-knitted jerseys for a poor mother and two small sons; Mrs. Rains, shoes; and A. Friend, clothing.

West Saanich Institute.—A very pleasant social was held at St. George's Wesleyan church on Wednesday evening, when military 500 drive was held under the auspices of the West Saanich Women's Institute. The prize winners were: First, Miss Starling Messers, L. Hagran, C. Betts and H. Laqueriere; consolation, Miss E. Brooks and Messrs. E. Hydes, A. Sharp and W. Brooks. On March 14 at 8.30 o'clock, the regular monthly meeting of the West Saanich Women's Institute will be held at their rooms, Sluggott, when Mr. Raven will address the meeting on the Oriental question, and on Saturday, March 18, the executive will give the annual Shamrock Tea. A cordial invitation is extended to all members, and in the evening a military 500 drive will be held in the institute's room, Sluggott.

LONGSHOREMAN HURT

Christopher Olsen, a longshoreman who shortly after 8 a.m. yesterday was working with a gang on the S.S. Canadian Scottish, was knocked overboard and fell to the dock side, being badly injured. The man was rushed to the St. Joseph's Hospital, where his condition to-day was reported to be fair.

FIRST MOVE FOR ## IMPROVEMENT TAX

Plebiscite Plan to Be Killed on Monday

The first move to bring a tax on improvements into effect here this year will be taken at the City Council's meeting Monday night, it was announced at the City Hall to-day. This move will take the form of a by-law annual a previous measure which would allow the City Council to submit a referendum on improvement taxation to the electors before the next civic election. The new amendment by-law was introduced by Alderman David Leeming and Alderman R. W. Perry. The by-law which the Leeming-Perry by-law will annul provides that the Council can submit a plebiscite on important questions to the electors at any time during the year. This by-law, opponents of the plebiscite plan frankly admit, was put through a couple of weeks ago before its significance and import were properly realized.

G.W.V.A. Auxiliary Met.—The Ladies' Auxiliary to the G. W. V. A. held its regular business meeting on Friday evening with Mrs. Taylor, first vice-president, in the chair, owing to the absence of Mrs. Palmer, the president. Much business was gone through. It was decided to hold a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Bryson, 1151 Pandora Avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, March 15. A letter has been received from Mr. MacNeill, Dominion secretary of the G. W. V. A. regarding widows' pensions, and other claims which he expects to bring to a successful issue. There is to be a free social after the next business meeting, the parent body to be invited. Ladies are asked to bring refreshments, also a friend.

Pleased With Ferry Project.—General satisfaction has been expressed on all hands at the result of Publicity Commissioner George I. Warren's negotiations for the establishment of a car-ferry service between Sidney and Anacortes which will have accommodation for the ferrying of thirty cars at one time across the Gulf. Mr. Warren has a letter from the Mayor of Anacortes, brimming with enthusiasm over the prospect and offering hearty co-operation with the residents of Victoria, Sidney and the Saanich peninsula in making the affair a big success. Anacortes is prepared to build the necessary slipways, and Sidney is having a delegation wait on the Government next week regarding the construction of a proper slip at this end of the ferry route.

Raises Interesting Point.—In the Oak Bay Court yesterday afternoon, W. C. Moresby, counsel for Charles Hall, charged with being in possession of unsealed liquor, raised an interesting point in connection with the sealing provision of the Government Liquor Act. Chief Snyes told the court that he had watched two men cache two bottles of liquor in the bush, and arrested the accused later on the charge stated. The bottles were unsealed. W. C. Moresby held that there was no evidence to show that the case from which the bottles had been taken was not sealed. The Liquor Act provides for the sealing of the "package" and the bottles might have come from a "sealed package" within the meaning of the act. Moresby asked the charge against the accused. J. S. Brandon acted for Oak Bay.

Gave Surprise Party.—Lodge Princess Alexandra No. 18, Daughters and Maids of England Benevolent Society, held their business meeting on Thursday, March 9, with Worthy President Mrs. O. Guy Silk in the chair. Several new members were admitted into the Order. Mrs. Cannon, of Fort Street, donated a tray cloth as a prize for the next card party. During the evening Sons of England Lodge, Pride of the Island, sprung a surprise party on the Princess Lodge, and gave an excellent programme of music and song. At the close of the programme the visitors served delicious refreshments. Mrs. O. Guy Silk in the chair. Several new members were admitted into the Order. Mrs. Cannon, of Fort Street, donated a tray cloth as a prize for the next card party. During the evening Sons of England Lodge, Pride of the Island, sprung a surprise party on the Princess Lodge, and gave an excellent programme of music and song.

Birthday Party.—Master Harry Cathcart, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Cathcart, of 1274 Johnson Street, was given a surprise party at his home on the occasion of his ninth birthday. Those present were: Berta Young, Isabelle White, Isabelle Moir, Martha Harrison, Norma Caldwell, Thelma Ridout, Velda Holland, Harry Cathcart, David Gray, Wilfrid Young, James Moir, Arthur Caldwell, Melvin Caldwell, Clifford Caldwell, Frankie Gribble, Harry Hebb, Charlie Holland.

C. P. R. Social Club.—A very successful military 500 drive took place under the auspices of the C. P. R. Club last Thursday evening at the Empress Hotel. Twenty-three tables were in play and the good games were taken part in. The final result was as follows: First prize, Mrs. Randall, Mrs. Bromley, Messrs. Nelson and Gibson. Second prize, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Wills. Messrs. Warratt and J. West. Third prize, Mrs. Stafford, Miss Gow. Messrs. Grace and Hughes. The prize for the ten bid was claimed at four tables, and on a "cut" being resorted to, it was ultimately won by Mr. Holt and Mrs. Rennie. An interesting feature of the evening was two tombola prizes given by the Bassett Studio of 4-8 Mahon Building, Government Street, which consisted of one Dresden Buff Portrait of the lucky winner, Mrs. Belanger and Mrs. Edwards were the winners. The Bassett Studio people have signified their intention of offering another two portraits at the next C. P. R. Drive which, in all likelihood, will be held on Thursday, March 23.

IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, March 11.—The wheat market to-day was comparatively dull and featureless throughout the session with a very light volume of business recorded. After a weaker opening the market strengthened somewhat and prices were fairly steady around 136 for May. The close was at 135 1/2, a gain of 1/2 cent from yesterday. There were further reports of export business but the market failed to respond as it did a few days ago.

Quietness prevailed in the local cash wheat market. A fair demand existed for the top grades but offerings were light and premiums remained unchanged. Inspections totalled 725 cars, of which 318 were wheat.

HOCKEY IS HOLDING STAGE.

With the final game in the Western play-off billed for Regina and the first of the Eastern series in Toronto, hockey holds all the limelight to-night.

Regina Gives Teams A Noisy Reception

Six Thousand Fans Armed With Horns Met Train This Morning; Ice Is Hard and Fast; Ottawa and Toronto Play-off To-night and Pats Are Very Confident; Huge Crowds Will See Both Games; Ottawa Fans Favor Vancouver

Regina, March 11.—Six thousand wildly enthusiastic fans greeted the victorious Caps on their arrival from Vancouver this morning for the final elimination contest for the Stanley Cup games in the east next week.

Various city organizations merged to make the reception a success. They had a brass band and practically everyone had some kind of a noise-making instrument. There were no speeches and no parade.

The players hustled through the ranks of cheering citizens to their hotel to rest up for the big game to-night.

The weather is cooler and frost last night, and the ice will be fast to-night. It is expected about 8,000 fans will crowd into the rink to-night.

Vancouver, March 11.—Vancouver lost Wednesday night's game when all Vancouver fans thought "there was nothing to it."

But lest the fans who are following the fortunes of Frank Patrick's hired help should feel discouraged, they might recall that the team from hockey of other years, as recalled by an old-time Ottawa hockey official.

Ottawa's old "Silver Seven" trimmed for several years everything that stepped onto the ice with any idea of carrying off the Stanley Cup. Then when they had stowed away a long list of challenges such as Dawson City, 50 to 3; Brandon, 23 to 2; etc., along from some place called "Rat Portage"—wherever that was—came a little heralded team. Such of them unknown in the Big Tent as Tom Phillips, St. Griffiths, Rocky Rudro, and some others just stood the world's champions on their heads in the first game, made them travel under the wire to beat them in the second and gave supporters of the champions the thrill of their lives in the third. But the cup stayed home.

Again in a home and home series the Old Wanderers—Moose Johnson, "Butcher" Strang, Lester Patrick, Hodgson (the same who, once in the heat of the game, struck the Governor-General's secretary), Ernie Russell, et al., took Ottawa into camp in the first game in Montreal 9 to 1. Shouldn't the mighty have felt discouraged?

But along in the second game, they started with a handicap against them of eight goals and secured them all back. And while the crowd grew frantic like a lone individual shot down the ice like a race-horse, took the opposing defence by utter surprise and, with a minute to go, won the Stanley Cup with an unassisted goal!

That individual was Lester Patrick.

Moral: The game is never won until the final whistle blows.

Ottawa Meets Toronto.

Ottawa, March 11.—The eyes of the Capital hockey fandom will be turned on Toronto to-night when the Senators hook up with St. Patricks in the first of the National Hockey League play-off series to decide which will defend the historic Stanley Cup and the professional hockey championship of the world.

Sharing to a certain extent the centre of the stage in the hockey spotlight here will be the match between Vancouver in the Stanley Cup and the Millionaires. Local observers who are more conversant with the style of play and the ability of the Millionaires candidly expressed surprise at Regina's win over the Millionaires on Wednesday night, but expect the senior league men to reverse the tally in to-night's game and win by at least the two-goal margin in the early to send them in quest of the cup.

Former westerners in the city are confident that the prairie representatives can give a good account of themselves in any case.

BRANDON ELIMINATED FROM HOCKEY SERIES

Winnipeg, March 11.—The Fort William hockey sextette, champions of Thunder Bay, last night qualified to meet the Regina Victorias in the Western Allan Cup finals, by defeating Brandon, champions of Manitoba, by an aggregate score of 9 to 7 in two games. Last night's game was a two-goal margin in the first, but Fort William had a three-goal lead by virtue of their 8-5 victory at the head of the lakes on Wednesday.

BOXING BIFFS

Kansas Wins Decision.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 11.—Rocky Kansas, Buffalo lightweight, won the judge's decision over Gene Delmont, of Memphis, in a 10-round bout here last night.

Canadian Champ Wins.

Hamilton, Ont., March 11.—Bobby Eber, champion bantamweight boxer of Canada, knocked out Johnny Rose, Toronto, here last night in the fifth round.

Louis A. Firpo, heavyweight champion of South America, is in New York looking for bouts.

CHICAGO INTERESTED OVER CANADA'S MOVE

Question of Rib-faced Clubs Is Still Taking Up Attention of U. S. Golfers

Chicago, March 11.—News that Canada had invited from Great Britain so far as the British rule against the use of rib-faced golf clubs is concerned, was received with much interest among the Chicago golfers because of the fact that Jack Hutchison, professional at Glenview Golf Club, won the British open title last Summer using such clubs for the last time that they were permitted on British courses.

The United States Golf Association is still considering what action, if any, it will take on rib mashes, while the Western Golf Association has virtually decided not to interfere with their use.

The rib-faced club came into wide use after its introduction among American players because of the facility with which a ball could be pitched dead to the green. This type of club, however, is not essential to the shot. Robert A. Gardner, among others, uses a straight-faced iron to accomplish the feat perfectly.

STUDENTS WIN BOTH BASKETBALL GAMES

Church Teams Go Down to Defeat Before High School Teams

Both student teams came off successful in the exhibition basketball games played at the High School gym, last night. The High School girls handed the St. Andrew's ladies a defeat by 45 to 10, while the senior High School boys won over the James Bay Methodists to the melody of 23 to 16 in the hottest game of the evening.

The first game of the evening, which was expected to be evenly contested, proved to be the very opposite. But the following game between the boys' teams made up for all that, with the first half ending 13 to 0, and one of the most exciting games of the season was the result, the students winning in a late rally.

They scored 23 points in the first half, and a penalty in the last five minutes. The boys scored the first rally, attacking consistently for several minutes, the boys were able to obtain a three-point lead, but at the end of the period play was so even and checking so hard that the lead had not been increased to any considerable margin.

At the commencement of the second period and they would be on even terms with the boys. They entered this period with every confidence, and it was surprising the effect this had upon the lads. Moore aroused the desire in his squad to win, and he urged them to play hard.

The first game of the evening was decidedly the High School students' throughout. Their team showed superior play, and the game was won by a score of 45 to 10.

The first game of the evening was decidedly the High School students' throughout. Their team showed superior play, and the game was won by a score of 45 to 10.

Scoring Was Heavy.

Miss McLennan, of the High School, proved herself the outstanding player of the evening, scoring no less than eight baskets for her side, while Miss Grubb and Miss Daniels hoisted their reputation as basketball players to a higher mark than ever. It was in the closing period of the game in which Miss Grubb showed excellent work, having some lovely shots which rushed her team well into the lead.

As usual Sarah McGill and Jean Burridge were the leading players for the St. Andrew's quintette, but at the end of the first half the girls were 13 to 0 ahead.

High School—Misses Pinkie Grubb, Muriel Daniels, Florrie Gales, Iola Worthington and E. McLennan.

St. Andrew's—Misses Sarah McGill, Owen Holt, Dorothy McVie, Jean Burridge and H. Burridge.

High School—McMillen, Moore, Gosse, Breckenridge, Nachtrieb, Harley, Ryan.

Referee—George Allen.

CLEVELAND BOWLERS SET UP NEW RECORD

Cleveland, Ohio, March 11.—A world's bowling record was established here last night when the Waite five-man team rolled 1243 in the sensational game here with the Hawkeye Tires in an Arcade Bowling League match. The previous record 1240 was made by the Detroit Journal team of Detroit in 1915.

The Waite total was 3201, which was only six pins less than the world's record for three games.

The Hawkeyes had a total of 3198.

WORK REWARDED BY HIGH TENNIS POST

J. G. BROWN

The hard-working secretary of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club has been appointed first vice-president of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association.

At the annual meeting of the association held in Toronto last month, Mr. Brown was recognized as one of the leading promoters of the game in the important post. G. H. Drummond, of Toronto, was elected president. A. St. Milne, of Vancouver, is the councillor for British Columbia, while J. de N. Kennedy, of this city, was appointed one of the councillors at large.

BIG FIGHT ON MONDAY NIGHT.

Harry Greb and Tommy Gibbons, two contenders for light-heavyweight honors, will punch one another. It should be a rattling good bout.

Fabulous Offer Is Made For Shortstop

Boston Americans Are Offered More Money For Joe Dugan Than They Accepted From Yankees For Babe Ruth; Would Have Set a New Record In Selling of Ball Players; Babe Hits His First Homerun of the Season

Boston, Mass., March 11.—Harry H. Frazee, president of the Boston Americans, says he has rejected appeal for a player's purchase that would surpass all others of the kind.

"I have been offered and have refused more money for Joe Dugan than I received for Babe Ruth," dispatches from Hot Springs, Ark., the Red Sox training camp, quoted Frazee as saying. That is taken to mean that approximately $150,000 was placed as the value of the shortstop who came to the Boston club during the Winter in a three-cornered trade, after making his mark as a member of the Athletics. Frazee has been credited with having received between $125,000 and $150,000 for Ruth.

Frazee said Dugan would not be sold. He would not indicate the source of the offer.

New Orleans, March 11.—The first ball pitched to Babe Ruth in batting practice here yesterday was knocked over the center field fence, which is 100 feet high and 486 feet from the plate. It was the second time in the history of the park that a ball ever went over that spot and Ruth holds both records.

Sequin, Tex. Babe Ruth's Davenport will be one of the speediest men on the bases in the big leagues this season, Kid Gleason, boss of the White Sox, believes.

Davenport formerly attended the University of Arizona, and was one of the ten-second men on the 100-yard dash. He is figured he should do as well on the diamond. Outside of being speedy on the bases, he is a promising left-handed pitcher. With Dick Kerr a holdout, Gleason needs a good southpaw.

Portland Beat Chicago.

Pasadena, Cal., March 11.—Cox, rightfielder of the Portland Club of the Pacific Coast baseball League was responsible for the 7 to 5 defeat his team administered the Chicago Nationals in the first inter-league baseball game here yesterday.

In the seventh inning, Cox hit a homer, scoring Wolff ahead of him.

Landis Does Some Business.

Chicago, March 11.—Three players reinstated in the eligible roll of major league clubs; four applications for reinstatement were made.

The six players left in the ineligible group must arrange their affairs to get back into the league.

Under contract with various clubs, and may be absolved of their sins only by one full year's disassociation from baseball.

They are: Wm. B. Haeffner, Pittsburgh Nationals; Ray Demitt, St. Louis Americans; D. J. Hickman, James H. Caton, Norman Pitt, George Fumant, all of the Brooklyn Nationals.

All are taken to task for having been connected in 1921 with "a team harboring and playing against ineligible players."

The bill for $1,764 was presented to the New York National League Club for the "improper transfer" of Howard Burdett to the Norfolk club.

Frank L. Miller, Boston Nationals, and Arthur Fletcher, Philadelphia Nationals, were returned to the active lists of their respective clubs, following a season of professional inactivity in 1921.

Weldon Wyckoff was restored to the fold of the Boston American club from which he jumped in 1918 following his assignment to Minneapolis.

Judge Landis to-night was making final preparations for a tour of the field to "see the boys in action."

Every camp of the major leagues will be visited on the trip.

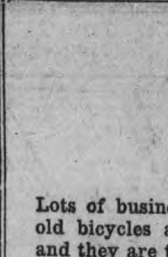

LEWIS'S HEADLOCK TOO MUCH FOR BIG BELGIAN

Louisville, Ky., March 11.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, defeated Carl Leibelge, of Belgium, in two straight falls here last night. Lewis got the first fall after 39 minutes with a flying headlock. The second fall was obtained with an arm lock in five minutes and 23 seconds.

Pendleton, Ore., March 11.—Bass and Sligh, high wrestlers of Astoria, Ore., and Charles Olson, claimant of the Canadian middleweight wrestling championship, wrestled two hours without either getting a fall here last night. Sligh was outwrestled twenty points.

Chicago, March 11.—Jim London, substituting for Jack Linow, whose back was sprained when he was hit by an automobile prior to his scheduled wrestling match with John Preberg last night, wrestled Preberg to a draw in six rounds.

Manager Bill Gleason has a big task this Spring in trying to develop a winning White Sox combination with the material at hand.

ATHLETICS MAY GET HIGHER THIS SEASON

Connie Mack Said to Be Getting His Pitchers in Good Shape; Watch Old-timers

New York, March 11.—Folks can laugh at Connie Mack about being a hopeful man, but the fact remains that they can't destroy his optimism, and down at Eagle Pass to-day he believes his pitchers are showing him he had them last year when he had them in training in Louisiana. Perhaps his Texas oxygen tank is doing it.

Hasty and Harris of the Athletics pitched good ball more than once last year and if they can begin to pitch good ball right at the start and keep the good work up this year Mack thinks he has a chance to drift away from his eighth place so long.

At none of the American League camps have the managers been urging their pitchers to get into high speed. More and more it is becoming evident that the pitching this season either will break for the better or develop in the most appalling nightmare that managers have staged for years.

None of them can be induced to take a chance on his pitchers' arms this early in the season.

Watching Two Veterans.

There are two veterans who will be watched with interest this spring and encouraging reports are heard about both of them. They are Alexander of the Cubs and Walter Johnson of the Senators.

Johnson is expected to be in the middle of May if the weather is at all favorable, and with the support which he will receive from the improved Washington team of 1922 he should have a good year.

A great deal depends upon what Alexander can do so far as the Cubs are concerned. If he flattens out and has not the skill which he has had in other years the Cubs are going to be a snarling and an unhappy lot. There is no one on the confidence list who can inspire the Cubs.

Alexander is being very careful with his arm this Spring. After his long years of service as a pitcher he can not hope to take chances.

The Detroit pitchers may be worked more slowly than some of those that are further advanced. Cobb is another man who must work his pitchers with tact and discretion because he hasn't all of the quality in that department he would like to have.

SMITH, OF HOTSPURS, TO REPLACE MOSSOM

London, March 11.—In the International Association Football game between England and Wales, scheduled for next Monday, Smith, of Tottenham Hotspurs takes the place of Mossom on the English team.

Simmons, London's international center forward, was to-day transferred back to his native town, South Shields.

BORN TOO EARLY TO REAP RICH HARVEST

Jack Massey, London Veteran Boxer, Marvels at Purses Present-day Fighters Get

London, March 11.—Britain's prize-fighters of the eighties were watered down by the battles of the twenties and ask how they get that way.

After fighting forty years ago—they used bare fists in those days—was hardly the place for a man to earn a living. One of the best of them then, "Gentleman" Jack, sits by to-day and compares his own career with a Dempsey or Carpentier with just a little envy.

Fighting was just a side-line to him and the illegality of most of the contests necessitated great inconvenience to get a scrap.

"Gentleman" Jack almost got to America for a try with the champion John J. Sullivan. He was picked as a heavy favorite in a "scoring out" competition, but unluckily lost in the semi-finals to Charlie Mitchell winning the honor.

A memorable fight of Massey's was one with Jack Burke, his winner's end of the purse being a $200 cup.

Broke Wrist But Kept on.

Later he attempted what no fighter had done in years. He made three matches at the same time for $250 a side each.

One of the bouts was secretly arranged in Sussex. Massey broke his wrist in the twenty-second round, but fought another twenty rounds before retiring.

Then came the second bout of the series at Epsom. The police got wind of the affair and, to avoid notice, the contestants and supporters journeyed down at night disguised as furniture movers. The police, however, raided the ring, and arrested all present.

Heavy fines followed. The third affair came off without mishap, Massey winning easily, and returning to his work at Smithfield Market.

"Gentleman" Jack is extremely proud of his career, but he can't quite see why fighting should be rewarded with diamonds and automobiles.

BAYS AND SAINTS TO PLAY FEATURE GAMES

Loss For Either Will Put Them Out of Running For Senior "B" S. League

James Bay Methodists and St. Andrew's Senior "B" basketball teams will both be in action to-night at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium.

The Bays will meet the Tillicums, while St. Andrew's will try conclusions with the K. of C. five.

COLUMBIA

Marie Prevost is the star in the feature attraction at the Columbia Theatre to-day. This is "Don't Get Personal," a light comedy which gives the star ample opportunity for the display of her talents. There are a number of amusing situations that brought forward laughs from the audience yesterday. While it is straight comedy most of the time, some of the situations develop into farce comedy. The photography is good, the production and settings up to the requirements, and the star has been surrounded by an adequate cast, headed by T. Roy Barnes, who enters well into the spirit of the story. Another excellent character is given by Roy Atwell, while Del Loria is all that can be described as the vamp. And one must not forget the big dog, "Tuddy," who is responsible for a lot of laughs in the picture.

ROYAL VICTORIA

It was Mack Sennett who flashed the wit, wisdom, beauty and brilliance of "Mickey" to the world. It was Mack Sennett who has produced another triumph—one that will out-rival "Mickey," and its title is "Molly O."

In "Molly O" are again combined the forces that made "Mickey" supreme among comedies: Mack Sennett, the producer; merry Mabel Normand, the mischievous star; and F. Richard Jones, the director.

A Cinderella story is told in "Molly O"—a story bubbling over with comedy, yet fraught with faith, wit, humor, pathos, beauty, pageantry and romance, and graced with exquisite glimpses of human nature. Miss Normand touches the peaks of art and the heights of comedy in her portrayal of a daughter of poverty struggling against the overwhelming odds of environment to reach the uplands of happiness.

Taking more than a year to complete and over 2,000 persons to present, "Molly O" will be shown for the last time to-day at the Royal Victoria Theatre in the complete confidence of the management that it is greater than "Mickey," and one of the very few really big productions that have distinguished the silver sheet.

CAPITOL

Paul McAllister, who was seen in "Footlights" at a Paramount production starring Miss Elsie Ferguson, is in the cast of "Forever," starring Elsie Ferguson and Wallace Reid, at the Capitol. It was produced by George Fitzmaurice. In this picture Mr. McAllister takes the part of Dr. Serranier, a Hungarian scientist. For three

VARIETY

The Morning Telegraph: "Riders of the Dawn" is an exciting and vivid story. The Tribune: "The picture is a good melodrama, well acted." The Times: "The big thriller at the Strand this week might well be called 'Action Unlimited.'" Similar favorable comments were made by the New York evening papers, there being not a single bit of adverse criticism. It must be added that the verdict of the public in this case coincided entirely with the views of the press. This has not always been the case. Time and again the public has rejected the pictures which were favored by the reviewers and vice versa. Whenever there is such unanimity on the part of press and public the success of a feature is as good as guaranteed. "Riders of the Dawn" is at the Variety for the last time to-day.

NORMA TALMADGE COMING

"The Sign on the Door," starring Norma Talmadge in a screen version of Channing Pollock's highly successful stage play of the same name, will be the feature attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre next week, commencing on Monday.

Miss Talmadge is supported by an excellent cast, which includes Charles Richman, Lew Cody, David Proctor, Augustus Balfour, Mack Barnes, Helen Weir, Robert Agnew, Martin Bunsley, Paul McAllister, Lew Hendricks and Walter Bussell.

"The Sign on the Door" was produced under the direction of Herbert Brenon, who previously directed Norma in "The Passion Flower." It is said to follow closely the stage play in which Marjorie Rambeau gained new laurels.

"The Sign on the Door" offers Norma an exceptional opportunity to display her dramatic talent. It is a fascinating story of a pretty young stenographer, Ann Hunnwell, who innocently enough becomes compromised when she goes with her employer's son, Frank Devereaux, to a questionable cafe, which is raided.

Later she marries "Lafe" Regan, a man of high character and of great wealth. Devereaux comes into her life again. He becomes infatuated with her step-daughter. In a dramatic scene between Devereaux and "Lafe" Regan, Devereaux is killed. Regan does not know that his wife has witnessed the tragedy.

Ann calls the police and accuses herself of the killing of Devereaux to shield her husband. The district attorney steps in and makes a remarkable discovery which restores happiness to the Regan family.

"FOOL'S PARADISE" COMING

Despite the present day scarcity of beer signs and gambling devices Cecil B. De Mille succeeded in staging a most realistic border town dance hall background for some of the action of "Fool's Paradise," his latest Paramount production, which comes to the Dominion Theatre next week. The equipment includes everything from empty whisky bottles, slot machines, roulette wheel, faro layout, crap and poker tables and other impedimenta which goes to make up the paraphernalia of a saloon and dance hall.

The realism of the scene does not stop with the bar and gambling devices. A Mexican orchestra was secured with Mexican dancers and extras. This latter group included ruffians—the mounted police of Mexico—gamblers, cowboys, loafers, Chinamen, dancing girls, and sight-seeing visitors.

"Fool's Paradise" boasts of an all-star cast which includes Dorothy Dalton, Mildred Harris, Conrad Nagel, John Davidson, Thuma Kossloff and Julia Faye. The story was suggested by Leonard Merrick's "The Laurels and the Lady."

Owen Moore's latest comedy, written and directed by Henry Lehrman, will have two leading women—Nita Naldi and Pauline Garon.

How I Discovered A Great Secret for Washing My Clothes

SUNDAY NIGHT—

Mary and her husband spent the evening with us. The men were interested, talking shop. I thought they would never leave. I was so tired, but I simply had to soak the clothes before I went to bed.

Then Mary told me "Why I never soak my clothes over night any more." You see Mary's brother is a chemist, and he explained to her that leaving clothes overnight in a dirty soap bath simply rots them.

"Dirt, he explained should be loosened from the fabric by other chemicals." "I have forgotten the names of the chemicals, he said, but people add caustic soda, and other strong chemicals, which certainly remove the dirt, but positively ruin the strength, color and wear of the clothes. The correct chemical solution is the one that loosens every particle of dirt without injuring the fabric."

Imagine a man knowing all that about washing clothes!

He told Mary about somebody, who had made a wonderful new washing tablet that contained just the right combination of chemicals for perfect washing. Mary bought some of these tablets and says "All I do is to cut up about half a cake of soap, and put two tablets in the wash boiler. Bring the water to a boil, thoroughly dissolving the tablets and soap. Then put in my clothes. Be sure and rinse them thoroughly, and they are ready for the line. I never use blueing, as the washing tablets make the clothes as white as snow." Mary has promised to send me over two washing tablets tomorrow, so I am not going to soak my clothes tonight.

MONDAY—

Wonderful! The easiest wash day I ever had. Never had to scrub a thing. Just boiled my clothes, using the tablets, and less soap than I ever used before—rinsed them thoroughly, then out on the line.

TUESDAY—

I really believe the clothes are whiter. They look better than they ever did before. Seems almost too good to be true. It was certainly the easiest washing I ever put on the line. I telephoned the grocer, and he is sending over a package of Quick Wash Tablets with today's order. I will have them in the house next Monday.

A large package containing ten tablets good for five washings can be obtained from your grocer for 25 cents—or write to us and we will send you a sample package good for one washing.

LENTEN SERVICES AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH; CHILDREN INVITED

On Sunday morning the special "Family Service," held on the second Sunday of every month, will take place at St. John's Church. Parents are particularly invited to bring their children with them to this service. Hymns suitable for the young people will be sung and the rector will give a sermon addressed to the young people of the church. The recent Synod strongly recommended this service and a growing interest has been manifested in this effort at St. John's. On Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick will begin the second of a series of Lenten addresses on "Fundamental Teachings of the Church," the subject for Sunday evening being "Our Part in the Christian Covenant."

SPECIAL SERVICES AT ST. ANDREW'S

Special pre-communion services will be held every evening next week at 8 o'clock in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church as follows: Monday, "The Love of God," speaker Rev. Daniel Walker; Tuesday, "Seasons of the Soul," speaker Rev. W. G. Wilson, M.A.; Wednesday, opening of the Presbyterian Branch of the W. M. S., speaker Rev. George Pringle, B.A., of the Loggers' Mission; Thursday, "Why Are There So Few Conversions?" speaker Rev. Thos. McConnell, B.A.; Friday, reception service, Rev. W. Leslie Clay, D.D.; Sunday, 19th, at 11 a.m., the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

Bible Study for Men.—A weekly Bible study class for men, meeting every Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in The Precincts (former Bishop's Close, 912 Burrard Avenue) has been started by a group of men of St. John's Church. Parents are particularly invited to bring their children with them to this service. Hymns suitable for the young people will be sung and the rector will give a sermon addressed to the young people of the church. The recent Synod strongly recommended this service and a growing interest has been manifested in this effort at St. John's. On Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick will begin the second of a series of Lenten addresses on "Fundamental Teachings of the Church," the subject for Sunday evening being "Our Part in the Christian Covenant."

W. M. S. PRESBYTERIAL TO MEET NEXT WEEK

Dr. George Pringle Will Be Chief Speaker

The Victoria W.M.S. Presbyterian, which includes Vancouver Island organizations, will hold its annual meeting in Victoria, March 15 and 16, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

At the opening session, on Wednesday evening, Dr. George Pringle, brother of Dr. John Pringle, ex-Moderator of the General Assembly, will be the speaker. He will have as his subject, "The Experiences of a Sourdough Padre." He is a man with a great story to tell, and he knows how to tell it in a thrilling way.

Among his varied experiences these are a few: Eleven years on the Klondike creeks in early days; a Chaplain on the North Atlantic, as Chaplain on a Canadian hospital ship plying between England and Canada. A winter in Shorncliffe Military Hospital. A year and a half with the Canadian Camerons in France and some months with a tank battalion. He has done wonderful service with, and for men, and is a true frontier missionary.

The public is cordially invited to come and hear this gifted speaker.

UNVEILING BRASS TABLET TO LESLIE MCCOY

On Thursday evening the members of the Young People's Society of Knox Presbyterian Church met to honor the memory of Leslie McCoy, son of Rev. Joseph McCoy, of this City, who died in July, 1920.

Garnet Halliday, President of the Society, after reading the 23rd Psalm, indicated briefly the nature of the gathering. Laughton Partington told of Leslie's cheery disposition, during his enforced retirement from all activities. James Stewart also added a few words of tribute.

Two hymns were sung, and Liddle's "Abide With Me" was beautifully rendered by Miss Norah Jones. A beautiful tablet of brass, suitably engraved, with oak mount, has been placed in the Church by the Young People, and during the singing of the hymn "Blest Be the Tie that Binds," the gathering stood while the unveiling ceremony took place.

Rev. Mr. McCoy suitably replied. Before pronouncing the benediction, Rev. Mr. Macrae, who had been a very close friend of the young man, paid a tribute to his bright Christian spirit.

PRESBYTERIES SEEK OPINION ON UNION

Victoria Church Members Desire Action by General Assembly

Victoria Presbytery last week, and Westminster Presbytery (which embraces the lower mainland) this week have adopted overtures on the question of church union, in both cases the documents being ordered to be sent forward to the General Assembly sessions, which will be held in June. That from the Victoria Presbytery follows:

Whereas the union in which we are living call for the undisturbed effort of body, mind and spirit. And whereas the question of the organic union of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational Churches in Canada has been for the last twenty years and continues to be a distracting and dividing force among brethren who ought to be united in their efforts for the welfare of Church and State and for the building of the Kingdom of righteousness and peace. And whereas organic union is not advised by the verdict of history, which declares that a dominant ecclesiastical organization tends to become corrupt, and that lands and periods in which only one church existed were notable for spiritual deadness and their lack of the spirit of sacrifice.

And whereas the Church in the Presbyterian conception of it has always been understood to be made up of those who love the Lord Jesus Christ and who thus constitute its final authority. And whereas the General Assembly in adopting the report of its Union Committee in 1905 pledged itself to make the vote of the people the deciding factor in its question of union, and less the people so voted with practical unanimity.

And whereas the General Assembly in 1913 halted the movement as the result of the vote of the people in 1911 for the following reasons: "The extent of the minority which is not yet convinced that organic union is the best method of expressing the unity sincerely desired by all, the General Assembly deems it unwise immediately to proceed to consummate the union."

Change of Opinion. "And whereas the vote in 1915 shows the following striking comparison with that of 1911 that halted the movement: in favor being 600, while the vote opposed shows an increase of elders and members of 22.82. And whereas the present proposed organic union removes the subordinate standards of the Church and completely obliterates the identity of the Presbyterian Church in Canada for a new association into which is proposed the property of the Presbyterian Church in Canada and the property of the United Church of Canada, which would lead to endless litigation.

And whereas the unity of the faith is more clearly defined in the subordinate standards of our Church than in the proposed basis of union. And whereas the General Assembly of 1917 unanimously appealed to the Church to await the new light which it may receive through Divine guidance and through the growing experiences of the people and the lessons of the war, which in our opinion, assumes another vote of the people as the only means of seeing new light and ascertaining the growing experience.

And whereas the peace thus established at the Assembly in 1917, made possible the remarkable activities of the Forward Movement, which, in the words of the General Assembly of 1918, placed before the whole Church the needs and work of the Presbyterian Church in Canada for the future, and the extension fund of several millions of dollars was raised by our people.

And whereas the General Assembly of 1921 in refusing to recognize (1) the increased opposition of the people in the vote of 1915, (2) the plain meaning, as we understand it, of the resolution of 1917, and (3) the fact that the Forward Movement in the Presbyterian people for the needs and work of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and resolved to consummate union—has again thrown the Church into an inextricable state of distraction and division in which it is impossible to do our part worthily for Christ and the world.

Therefore the undersigned members of Victoria Presbytery respectfully overture the Venerable General Assembly, at its approaching meeting in 1922, either to discontinue this movement that is splitting our own Church, or to decide to take another vote of the people, in which case the fullest opportunity be given to present that the vote from both sides to all the people in order that the vote may express the intelligent conviction of the people who are the Church and constitute its final authority.

PREPARE FOR ANIMAL WEEK

S.P.C.A. Will Give Prizes to Children in Three Excellent Competitions

The week of May 1 to May 7 has been selected as the "Be Kind to Animals Week," in which period the local branch of the S. P. C. A. will enlist the sympathy of the public on behalf of the dumb animals. As usual in the celebration of this annual event three competitions for young people have been arranged.

Three Competitions. The first competition is open to any girl or boy under 15 years of age, and is a poster competition, indicating "Kindness to Animals." Posters should not be larger than 10 by 12 inches, and in color, black and white, crayon, pencil or ink. Two prizes are to be awarded in this class.

The second competition is for children under 15 years of age and under 9 years of age, being an essay competition with "The Intelligence and Virtue of Animals" being the subject. The essays are to be limited to 300 words, one side of the paper only to be used. Two prizes are to be awarded for this event.

For Little Tots. A third competition, open to any child under the age of nine years, consists in the writing a story about any animal the contributor chooses.

In all competitions age, name, address, school must be given, and entries should be addressed to the Secretary, S. P. C. A., Box 784, Victoria, not later than April 20.

At Christ Church Cathedral.—Lenten sermons at Sunday's services in Christ Church Cathedral will be preached by the Dean of Columbia, Very Rev. C. S. Quantin, on the following subjects: At 11 a.m., "Wilful Sin and Involuntary Sin"; at 7 p.m., "Faith and Suggestion."

BABY BEGLY.

"It was the Virol saved her life."

40, Java Street, Ottawa, 21/9/20.

Dear Sirs, I want to tell about my baby Doris Mabel. She weighed 54 lbs. when born and appeared healthy then, but began to waste away, and was so poorly that she had to be carried about on a pillow and no food would agree with her.

At the age of two months the nurse advised VIROL added to the feeding; she then weighed 9 lbs. and after a few days she began to improve. The VIROL was continued and she steadily gained until at nine months she weighed 17 lbs. The nurse at the Health Station said she had very little hope of the baby living, and we are sure it was the VIROL saved her life. I am enclosing her photo taken at the age of one year and eight months, weighing 22 lbs., and you can use it if you wish as I am so grateful to your VIROL.

Yours truly,
(Sgd.) (Mrs.) W. J. BEGLEY.

VIROL is used in large quantities in more than 1400 hospitals and in infant clinics. It is invaluable for the expectant and nursing mother herself, whilst for children it supplies those vital principles that are destroyed in the sterilizing of food of immature babies. VIROL babies have firm flesh, strong bones and good colour.

LECTURES TO BEGIN

A. Y. P. A. Lenten Course on Work of Church to Begin Monday

The first of a series of five illustrated lectures on "The Work of the Church" will be given next Monday evening at eight o'clock in Christ Church Cathedral schoolroom. The lecturer for the evening will be Rev. H. T. Archibald, Secretary to the Provincial Council for Social Hygiene and Diocesan representative on the Council for Social Service of the Church of England in Canada. Mr. Archibald will speak on "The Social Work of the Church."

The evening's programme will open with selected slides on the Life of Christ. A certain number will be shown in consecutive order each evening to allow the complete set of eighty slides to be seen in the course of five lectures.

The lectures are free and open to the public. They have been arranged by Christ Church Cathedral branch of the Anglican Young People's Association to give information of the character and extent of church work.

To Hold Rummage Sale.—Members of the Parish Women's Guild are planning to hold a rummage sale in Christ Church Cathedral schoolroom on Friday morning, March 24. Donations of articles may be left at the schoolroom, Quadra Street, or particulars telephoned to Mrs. Duncan Ross, 6791 R, or to the Precincts 7111.

At St. James's.—The Rev. T. E. Rowe, Guild of Health Missioner, continues to hold his services in St. James's Church, Quebec Street, on Sundays at 7 p.m.

PERHAPS there is a charm about the spinning wheel—in pictures. In actuality, spinning was tedious, tiresome work. Yet, in the old days a woman could count herself remiss who could not spin. How differently today. Instead of being praised for her purely "heartstone" perfections, the modern woman is admired rather in proportion as she takes advantage of time-saving conveniences which leave her free for happier activities. Such is the woman who appreciates the convenience of Shelly's 4X Bread, knowing she gets it daily, baked to perfection in a modern plant, always sweet and wholesome,

The British Lion's Restless Brood

Restless to realize all the blessings of their united greatness and their individual equality—a restlessness of growth and readjustment, transforming a vast Empire into a world-wide Commonwealth of Free Nations. When did this great change begin? How was America responsible for its beginning? In what way did Canada hasten it? And Ireland? By what steps and through what difficulties is the process continuing? What important steps remain to be taken? Shall America hinder or help?

Canada, the Land of Potentialities

How does Canada compare with the ancient Roman Empire? With the British Isles? With the United States?
How may Canada determine the future destiny of the world commonwealth of Greater Britain?
Under what circumstances did the close friendship between the United States and Canada begin, and what is its special significance?
How have the physical characteristics of Canada affected the development of her national life?
What are the fabulous natural resources of the Dominion?

"Old Ireland" the New

When and how did the "rebirth of the Gael" begin, and how did it result in the Irish Free State?
What was at the root of Ireland's trouble with England?
What is the "peculiar cultural and spiritual ancestry" of the Irish people?
What is the Irish attitude toward death?
What was the Irish Republican Army really like; and what are the facts from both points of view regarding the Sinn Féin?
Of what importance is the Irish Free State as an economic factor in the world?
What is the effect of the new Agreement on Ulster?

India, Seething With Unrest

Will India break away from the British Commonwealth and become an independent Moslem state; will the Mohammedans restore the Sultan of Turkey to his former power; or will India remain as a dazzling jewel in the British crown?
What is the wonderful story of this land of extremes, this home of one of the oldest civilizations in history—this "motherland of religion"?
What are the most marked causes of the great unrest and discontent?

America's Attitude Toward Great Britain

Why have some papers been declaring that war between America and Great Britain "is inevitable," while others insist that we are "entering an era of more friendly relations than ever"?
What is the prevailing American opinion, and upon what is it based?
Should the United States "share with Great Britain the burdens of the world as a whole"?
How will the rivalry between the British Commonwealth and the American Commonwealth for world trade be carried on, and with what result?

THE BIG STORY OF A GIANT EMPIRE CHANGING TO A DEMOCRATIC COMMONWEALTH Told in the Special British Commonwealth Number of the Literary Digest OUT TO-DAY

Bases of British Strength

With all its wealth, natural resources, financial strength, and means of defense on land and sea how is England kept from starving?
How are the products of the British Empire related to the life of the rest of the world?
How is British naval supremacy affected by the Washington agreement?
Where have the sons of Britain been going for the past 200 years, and with what effect upon the motherland?

British Character, Culture and Life

From what "hated enemy" is the dominant strain of English blood traced?
What are the natural characteristics of the people and their attitude toward war?
What is their notion of private rights, and how does it affect their government?
What contradictory things are found in their character and temper, and what general principle accounts for them?
How is the growth of democracy changing the British people?

Egypt Under the British Regime

What modern wonders in Egypt compare, for greatness, with the ancient pyramids and the ruins of Luxor?
What has Britain been doing for the last forty years in Lower Egypt and along the Upper Nile?
How has Egypt developed; what is the present condition of her people, and when did the new Egyptian "nationalist movement" become militant?

Australia, the Real Land of the Golden Fleece

The oldest continent on earth; larger than the United States; nearly as big as all Europe; a land of wonders and mysteries; surpassing all peoples in the world in per capita wealth and productive power; ninety-seven per cent of her people of pure British descent; a laboratory of political experiments—what is the relation of Australia to the British Crown, how is the country governed, what are her political problems, and what is her place in the economic programme of the world?

New Zealand First

Did you know that New Zealand was the first country in the world to make compulsory the conciliation and arbitration of industrial disputes? That it was the first country to establish universal penny postage, state fire insurance, state maternity homes, non-contributing old-age pensions, and many other social and economic reforms?
Do you want to know all about this remarkable country of which Bryce declares that "nowhere is the level of comfort higher; there are no millionaires, very few rich persons, and no class of people is sunk anywhere near to the margin of subsistence."

Changing Tides in South Africa

What marvelous transformation in South Africa has brought about "one of the most dramatic chapters in the modern history of the British Empire"?
What caused the Boers, who fought against the British in 1900, to fight for the British in 1915?
How did the Union of South Africa become possible, and what claim has it to distinction as "the only real democracy in the world to-day"?
Why is the color problem "the most serious question before the people of South Africa"?
What is the thrilling and picturesque story of the taking and making of Rhodesia?

British Power in the West Indies

What special American significance has been found in the fact that this chain of islands flanks the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea?
What are the social, industrial, political, and commercial characteristics and possibilities of these groups of several thousand islands?
Is there a probability of an Imperial Federation of the Caribbean Colonies under the leadership of Jamaica?

Wonderful Maps, in Colors, of the Far-Flung British Commonwealth

Showing the growth of the British Empire from 1815 to 1922; the political status of all the scattered parts, with area and population. This new, copyrighted map is a correct and up-to-date guide in studying the development of the world-wide British Commonwealth of Nations, and its relationship to our own political and trade problems in all parts of the world.

of America, and our arrangements with other clubs ensures for our members the fullest information while on tour. Last Summer many visiting tourists availed themselves of the privileges of obtaining information from our office, regarding the island routes, etc., and in addition to this, a large number of mail enquiries were handled, and we also assisted some of our own members before they started out on tours of Canada and the States. All this work you will appreciate, not only strengthens us with other clubs, but helps to develop our tourist trade, which we are most anxious to foster," said Mr. Yarrow.

Mr. Yarrow spoke of the enthusiasm with which the club had worked during the first year of its existence, and expressed the opinion that this spirit would always prevail and that members would ever recognize the importance of attending the meetings, and taking part in the work of the organization.

RADIATOR IMPORTANT FOR IDENTIFICATION

Standard Designs Makes Easy Tracing Possible

Most people pride themselves on being able to recognize various makes of motor cars, and this recognition is for the most part based on the familiar lines of the radiator. They do not like the necessity of adjusting themselves every few years to the new radiator designs of their favorite cars, for it is too much like meeting old friends disguised. How much better it is to meet old friends easily, finding no disrupting changes to jar one's sensibilities. Perhaps they may be dressed in a new suit or doted up a bit to meet the dictates of current fashion, but they are old friends nevertheless, and easily recognized as such.

Long, long ago (twenty years ago to be exact) a group of men in a little manufacturing town of Cleveland, Ohio, were perfecting a motor car destined to become internationally famous. The cooling system was completed and it only remained to fashion an external shell for the radiator. Very carefully and by hand, the metal was cut, hammered, fitted and moulded to cling to the radiator core, at the same time smoothing out the rough angles and bridging over the corners. The result was the Peerless radiator design, from that day until this remaining unchanged fundamentally in its relative proportions and individuality. The first Peerless cars made such a good reputation for themselves and were easily recognized by the radiator design. Subsequent Peerless cars have impressed that radiator design indelibly on the minds of people all over the globe so that new old models and current models are immediately identified.

This policy of standardization in the design of the radiator—the most important part of the car from the standpoint of identification—is a fortunate one for the manufacturers in that it makes their product universally recognized. It is, moreover, a policy appreciated by that part of the public who regard cars as old friends and who are sure they will always be easily recognized as such.

'Making the Train'

In plenty of time to get comfortably settled in the Pullman. Cars equipped with "Gutta Percha" Tires will always make the train. Chance of trouble haunts every cheap tire. Beware of haunted tires. Stake your certainty on a tire produced under the most rigid and exacting conditions, eliminating any chance of a hidden skeleton. No ghosts of carelessness or skimping will rise up against "Gutta Percha" Tires.

'GUTTA PERCHA' TIRES

PRICE. What could possibly induce a man to risk missing his train by putting a cheap tire on his car. The idea of failing to meet an appointment should induce every business man to equip his car with the best Tires—"Gutta Perchas."

CARBURETOR ADJUSTMENTS LEAD TO SAVING OF FUEL

Automobile owners who are having trouble getting expected mileage out of their gasoline consumption may find that by having their carburetors carefully adjusted increases in fuel economy can be obtained.

This is advice given by the Associated Advertising Clubs in a bulletin issued by its Vigilance Committee reporting investigation of claims made for a carburetor advertised as sure to save one-half to one-third on fuel and to increase the power of any motor from 30 to 50 per cent.

The bulletin states that partial tests made by the United States Government bureau of standards were to the effect that the extravagantly advertised carburetor showed no marks of superiority over others, and that the Government bureau stated great numbers of automobiles are being operated with a considerable excess of fuel under average conditions and careful readjustment of the carburetors would in many cases bring about worth-while economy. The Government bureau also pointed out that the apparent superiority of such numbers as "Jeux d'Eau" (Playing Fountains) by Ravel; the Etude, "If I Were a Bird" (Hensel-Godowsky); the Poeme Op. 32, No. 1, F sharp minor, by the Russian, Alexander Scriabin; a work of exquisite poetic conception, and the "Barcarolle" (Chopin), were all alike, perfectly delightful, and in each number were there manifestations of the great mental and emotional expression of their many characteristics. At times his touch is as of air, yet his lightness and suppleness of wrist, firm as steel, made his tones sound like a tiny bell.

Other numbers in contrasting forms and workmanship were the Rhapsody in E flat Op. 119, No. 4 (Brahms), in which the crashing chords stood forth in overwhelming manner, and the "Symphonie Meta Morphose" written by the master himself, in which the astounding stupendous difficulties were given with superb precision, crispness and legere. Leopold Godowsky met with a most flattering reception, and throughout the programme the audience showed their delight and keen appreciation, and the concert here was pianoforte literature as was contained in the programme.

ALWAYS BE ON THE ALERT.

Keep your mind on the operation of your car, while the latter is in motion; keep, too, your hands on the controls while in motion; but above all keep your eyes on the "other fellow," for it is he who can set at naught all your carefulness. It is the off chance that is responsible for most motor accidents these days. A driver may be prepared to perform a certain evolution with his car time and time again,

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

Windsor, Ont., March 11.—Gordon M. McGregor, vice-president and general manager of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, a former Winnipeg man, died this morning in a hospital in Montreal, where he had been confined since last Sunday. Death followed an operation for stomach trouble.

Windsor, Ont., March 11.—Gordon M. McGregor.

Victoria made musical history for herself last evening on the occasion of the two artists, the Russian Polish pianist, Leopold Godowsky, and Gertrude Huntley Green in a piano recital at the Pantages Theatre.

The building was packed from "pit to dome," and many were seated on the stage. Excitement, enthusiasm and enjoyment reigned supreme throughout the wonderful programme.

When it was announced that the great master of the keyboard was to play here much interest was aroused in musical circles, but when later on arrangements were completed the Mrs. Green would be assisting at the recital, then the whole community bestirred itself, and the event was looked forward to with intense demonstrations of delight.

The occasion marked the fact of the first production (the score is still in MSS.) of Godowsky's own arrangement—a contrapuntal paraphrase—of Weber's celebrated "Invitation to the Dance" for two pianos, and this distinction added to the importance of the recital, and, as already stated, created considerable interest.

In compliment to the remarkable abilities of Mrs. Green, the first piano was assigned her, the master satisfying himself with playing the second piano part. And what an object lesson it proved in ensemble, subservience of style and thought, earnest interpretation and solidifying of effects, to all present especially was its rendering appealing to the many hundreds of students gathered in the special seats provided for them. The work done was decidedly favorable impression.

The two artists being recalled to the platform and enthusiastically complimented.

If any criticism could be offered it is in the peculiar ending, wherein the paraphrase seemingly coming to a conclusion, is halted after a climatic upward in a somewhat desultory and subdued manner for further utterances. Victoria made musical history for herself last evening on the occasion of the two artists, the Russian Polish pianist, Leopold Godowsky, and Gertrude Huntley Green in a piano recital at the Pantages Theatre.

BUREAU PREPARES FOR BUSY SEASON

The Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau is laying out a programme of work. President J. C. Pendray, Mr. Warren and the entire staff are preparing for a very profitable season. It is expected that there will be large numbers of people visiting the city and the bureau is trying to see that those interested in settling here are given every facility for entering into the particular line of endeavor in which they are interested.

Sunday Closing.

The executive of the bureau yesterday reaffirmed the resolution passed some time ago urging the City Council not to make any move in connection with Sunday closing or other matters which might detrimentally affect the best interests of

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs.

The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business.

The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—infamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs, for its substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

A SWAN AND EGYPTIAN ARE LIKE MRS. ASQUITH

She Is Also Reminiscent of Pavlova and Nazimova—But Principally She Is Her Own Self.

By MONIS DARE.

MARGOT ASQUITH has now actually been in Canada. Canadian men and women, after reading about her for years and after reading her own reminiscences and observations, have now seen the woman herself.

The tables have, therefore, turned, and Canadians can discuss Margot, how she looks, what she is like, and what they think of her. And they are doing it freely.

Margot is essentially herself, not a copy of anybody else. That's why she is the famous Margot, because she has her own unique personality.

But even in the case of Margot you cannot see her without having other people come into your mind as a basis of comparison. I don't know how it has struck others, but Margot Asquith reminded me, unexpectedly enough, of two people, one a dancer, the other a movie star—Pavlova and Nazimova.

Margot is fundamentally an artist. She may or may not be intellectual, although she certainly has associated from youth with brilliant people, like Gladstone and Tennyson and Curzon and Balfour, and has apparently held her own with them. But, quite apart from intellectual qualities, Margot is innately artistic.

In her Toronto lecture she was a picture of grace and the poetry of motion, her only rival being Pavlova herself. The gestures of her hands are those of a dancer, now being like a swimming swan's neck, now like a rigid Egyptian hieroglyphic.

She was clothed, not in the garb of the romantic dancing stage, but in ultra-modern clothes which made every smart woman who saw her green with envy and red with determination to equal her.

A year ago, when dresses were at their shortest, Mrs. Asquith's photographs showed her with a dress coming scarcely below the knees. Now that the reaction is setting in, Margot leads the way and has her ankles swathed in her skirt of broad-striped moleskin. Her blouse of silver cloth has the wide sleeves and the bateau neckline of contemporary fashion.

But Margot proves that to be up to the minute in dress does not mean lack of grace, for she was as artistic in her appearance and in her movements as Pavlova, clothed as the latter is in all the traditional habiliments of the classic dance.

And Margot is reminiscent, too, of Nazimova. Of all modern actresses, this Nazimova is the most theatrical. The toss of her hair, the undulations of her body, the rolling of her eyes, and the contortion of her face are all eloquent of emotion. Like Nazimova, Margot Asquith is sensitive to her surroundings, sensitive to the point of self-consciousness, but able to transmute her egotism into a work of art.

In one of her stories, Margot tells how she always wanted to be an actress. The wish is only a pious one, for she is essentially, whether she knows it or not, that which she says she would like to be.

Margot is an actress. Margot is a great actress, with an audience at least as wide as the English-speaking world. And our opinion is that she knows it.

HON. MR. JUSTICE IDINGTON AND THE GALT PREACHER

Repatee as to 'Ages and Comparative Status of Professions.

HON. MR. JUSTICE IDINGTON of Ottawa is a member of the supreme court of Canada. He was in Galt recently attending the wedding of his niece.

Mr. Justice Idington is inclined to jest good-humoredly with ministers, and he kept up his reputation in Galt with the officiating clergyman, who managed, however, to score himself.

Mr. Justice Idington is uncommonly youthful looking for his years. The minister had remarked on this.

Thinking to have a joke on the minister, who is prematurely grey, Mr. Justice Idington replied: "Of course, everything depends on the business you're in—don't you think there's something in that?"

"Yes," replied the clergyman humbly. "I believe there is—you see, in my business I have to do a great deal of thinking."

When Frank Pedley Met The Cold, Cold Doukhobors

They Were Trudging to Winnipeg to Meet the Messiah.

THE Doukhobors are causing excitement again. There was first a rumor that they were going to kill all their old people and children, but it now appears that this particular story was exaggerated.

Then the rumor was that they were off on another of their naked pilgrimages. The whole situation is obscure, but the most recent report is that they are merely going to leave their farms owing to high taxation and go on the general labor market.

If they should finally decide to embark on a queer pilgrimage, minus clothes, it wouldn't be their first attempt.

Some years ago they started such a trek, and in spite of cold weather they discarded all their coverings.

The late Frank Pedley was sent by the federal department of the interior to induce them to return to their colony. He met them and inquired of their leader what they were doing and was told they were going to meet the Messiah.

They were walking towards Winnipeg, and Mr. Pedley told them: "It's no use. I just came from Winnipeg and He's not there. It's the last place in the world you would ever find Him."

There was a comic paper published in Toronto at the time called The Moon. Its one title to remembrance is this paragraph:

"The Doukhobors went out to meet the Messiah and they met Frank Pedley."

Harding and Hughes as Seen by a Photographer

Complaints as to Hughes' Whiskers—Harding Understands What Camera Wants.

ONE of the photographers who take snapshots of American public men in Washington has been telling his experiences in Leslie's Weekly. He reveals some very human characteristics of the men involved.

"Make 'em great," he says, "that's our job. We hang around the press room in the executive offices of the White House till someone gives the signal."

"Here he comes," says one of us, and the rest turn in quick step, to obey the call of the camera.

"With the stride of a man who is master of himself and several others, Mr. Hughes, the secretary of state, comes out after a cabinet meeting. The secretary of state appears to be in a triumphant mood. He puts his fedora hat on, pulls the brim well over his eyes, and saunters majestically out into the White House grounds. As he sees us ready for him he smiles amiably at us and click go half a dozen of our shutters.

"Nothing but whiskers," growls one of the boys, as he joins the others in the press office, afterwards.

"What did you expect, an oil painting?" asks one.

"No, but can't he treat us as if we were human?"

"Did you ask him to pose?"

"I did once."

"What did he say?"

"Say? He didn't answer me."

"We all have to smile," says this old camera man, "at the new man on the job."

"In this administration," he says, "President Harding has set a very high standard. He registers clear, he understands what the camera wants, he knows what's expected of him in the picture. He's the best camera president I ever snapped. He registers all the national emotions. He has a genial trick of throwing his head back when he registers a smile that is superb. His smile, too, is a masterpiece of camera art. It's not one of the open face grins that belong to the comics, it is a slow, sunny smile that creeps into the lens like a sunbeam from behind a cloud."

"There's only one emotion Harding won't register, and that's surprise. I've watched him in frock-coats, cut-aways, and sacks, and he's always the same unruffled leader. His clothes don't bother him; he forgets his necktie, and he knows that he looks more presidential with his hat off than on. He's 'hep' to all his good points, and you can't catch him off guard if you want to."

Drury the Healthiest Looking Premier Ontario Has Had for Many a Long Day

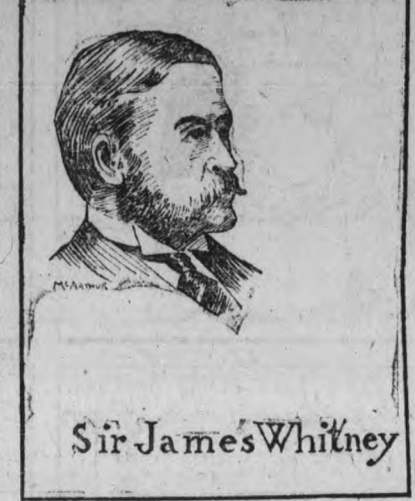

But Sir James Whitney Not Replaced as the Most Powerful of Recent Personalities—Legislature Revisited After Several Years' Absence—Nelson Parliament Comes From Back Benches to Speaker's Chair—Hay and Rowell.

By MAIN JOHNSON.

FOR five sessions I watched the Ontario legislature from the sidelines almost without missing a day. Then for five years I wasn't inside the chamber once.

Last week I went back to see how things looked.

I was particularly anxious to get there in time to hear Hon. Nelson Parliament, speaker of the legislature, read the prayers. I remember the day, eight years ago, when Nelson first took his seat as a member of the legislature. He was 35 years old, and young-looking for that—a fresh-faced farmer right off one of the best farms in that garden county of Prince Edward.

As a beginner, of course, he was just a back-bencher, but I noticed him at once as having the appearance of being alert and ambitious.

He soon showed publicly that he was both, and rapidly became one of the effective speakers among the small band that then composed the Liberal party in the House. It isn't that Nelson Parliament became much of an orator, but he spoke about things that he knew of, affairs of the farm and of country life. There was a note of sincerity and freshness about him.

When, therefore, he was honored with the speakership, I, for one, was in no way surprised, although Mr. Parliament hasn't as wide a scope for his talents in his present post as he had when he was on the floor of the House.

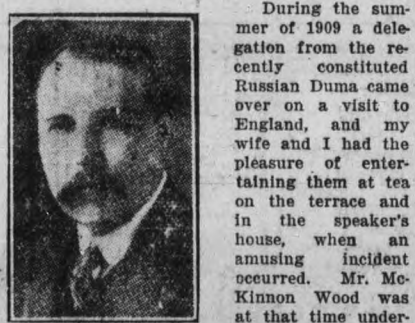

At all events, I wanted to hear Nelson read prayers. This ceremony was always impressive under his predecessors, W. H. Hoyle and Dr. Jamieson, and I wanted to see how ecclesiastical Nelson Parliament had become.

It was the day of the great flood, however, following the terrible ice storm of 1922, and I arrived at the legislature too late to hear the prayers. But I had a good look at Mr. Parliament in his robes of office. So adaptable is he, so appropriate to his surroundings, that I scarcely recognized him as the man I had previously seen in the back benches and with whom

Speaker's Wife Thought Wood a Russian Delegate

Amusing Mistake Made by Mrs. Lowther When Duma Visited England.

VCOUNT ULLSWATER, formerly Mr. James Lowther, speaker of the British House of Commons, who visited Canada last year, relates the following incident in the London Sunday Illustrated:

During the summer of 1909 a delegation from the recently constituted Russian Duma came over on a visit to England, and my wife and I had the pleasure of entertaining them at tea on the terrace and in the speaker's house, when an amusing incident occurred. Mr. McKinnon Wood was at that time under-secretary for foreign affairs, but

Mrs. Lowther was not personally acquainted with him, nor he with her.

Happening to see him sitting alone, somewhat disconsolate, she jumped to the conclusion that he was one of the Russian delegation, and carried on a conversation with him in French, finally introducing him to Mrs. Austen Chamberlain, whom she described as "la femme du ministre de finance de la dernière Douma." She did not venture to put any name to the supposed distinguished Russian representative, her command of Russian being somewhat imperfect. Upon the introduction being effected, Mr. McKinnon Wood and Mrs. A. Chamberlain, who were old acquaintances, conversed in the mother tongue, and the true situation became manifest. At that time little was known of the Russian Duma, and a great many people were even ignorant of what it was.

I happened to invite one gentleman to "come and meet the Russian Duma," and he, thinking that I was referring to an operatic singer or a ballet dancer, replied, "With pleasure, and do you think she would come out to supper after the performance?"

THOUGHT OF TOO LATE.

LOTS of friends are retained by our not saying the smart things we might have said.

I had motored through the glens and along the lakes of Prince Edward county.

Then I looked to the prime minister's seat. The two occupants of that chair whom I had seen so often were Sir James Whitney and Sir William Hearst. Now it was Hon. E. C. Drury.

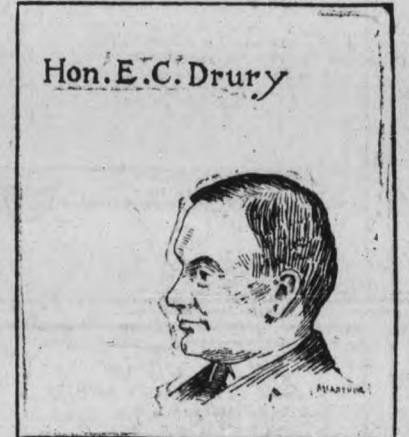

I hadn't seen Drury once since he had become premier. He looks so much healthier than he did when he was merely a farmer working out of doors. His appearance to-day is a hard blow to all theories about the healthfulness of farm life. Drury never looked as well as he does to-day.

It may be that he's better dressed now, and has his hair cut better and his face shaved more closely. Good grooming does make a man look smarter. At all events, Drury is a credit to any assembly.

He's healthier looking than either Whitney or Hearst was. Sir James was sturdy, but in the days when I saw him he was already an old man, showing some marks of his age. Sir William Hearst never did look robust during his premiership. Drury thrives on it, but it's probably because he has a constitution fortified by an agricultural existence. Hearst was a lawyer before he became premier, and the close, continued confinement of the legislature and of the parliament buildings didn't seem to agree with him.

Of all three premiers—Whitney, Hearst and Drury—Whitney had by far the most individual personality. Like Sir Wilfrid in Ottawa, he was the figure to which every eye in the legislature turned, although Mr. Rowell did become a centre of great interest, too.

When this afternoon I looked over to the opposition side, I saw in Mr. Rowell's old seat Mr. Wellington Hay. Both Mr. Hay and Mr. Rowell are good-looking men. Mr. Hay goes Mr. Rowell better in this respect, however, that he invariably wears a red carnation in his button-hole. The only time I ever saw a bit of color on Mr. Rowell's coat was on St. Patrick's Day, when he and all the members wore a sprig of shamrock presented to them by an enthusiastic Irish friend.

YOUNG AMERICAN WOMAN YEARNS FOR DIPLOMACY

Lucile Atcherson, With Broad European Experience, Wants Diplomatic Post.

MISS LUCILE ATCHERSON is the first woman in the United States to become a candidate for a diplomatic post. She is now preparing for a civil service examination which, if she passes, will make her eligible for the foreign service.

Miss Atcherson is at present a student of international law at George Washington University, Washington, D.C. Her candidacy for the diplomatic service has been endorsed by women's organizations national in their scope.

In 1917 Miss Atcherson became private secretary to Miss Anne Morgan. In that capacity she has lived much abroad, dealing with the work of the American committee for devastated France. She has also visited Britain, Germany, Austria, Bulgaria, Serbia, Greece and Turkey. She speaks fluently French, German, Italian and Spanish.

NORTHERN ONTARIO DISPUTE ABOUT MACKENZIE KING

THE French habitants in northern Ontario, writes a correspondent of ours from Smoky Falls, are much elated over the Liberal victory. Mackenzie King is a great hero to them.

A young English-speaking Canadian, by the name of Bill, was having an argument recently with one of these French-speaking citizens. He didn't seem to make much progress, and finally he almost shouted: "I tell you, Mackenzie King is an Orangeman!"

"That's not the truth," roared the habitant. "Mackenzie King's like Laurier—he's French."

Why Hon. R. H. Grant Had To Wait for Legislature

Ontario's Minister of Education Was Conservative, But Not Orangeman.

AN old parliamentarian writes us some intimate gossip comment on Hon. R. H. Grant, Ontario minister of education, and on Carleton county where he lives.

"It won't go well," our correspondent writes, "with Mr. Grant if they can hang on to him anything that savors of favoritism towards separate schools. He is member for Carleton and Carleton is an Orange stronghold. Hon. Mr. Grant is not an Orangeman. He would have been the Conservative candidate and member there years ago if he had been a member of the Order."

"The late Andy Broder, who was M.P. for Dundas, a neighboring county, used to state that many years ago the Conservative candidate in Carleton was selected by the County Orange Lodge. Andy even claimed responsibility for stopping the practice."

"The late Hon. John Haggart is credited with the statement that there had been no issue in Carleton county since the battle of the Boyne."

"But the sudden development of the Farmers movement gave Mr. Grant a chance to realize an aspiration which otherwise would never have been realized. He was just the man with which the farmers of Carleton could smash the Conservative party in a county that had been Tory since Christopher Columbus discovered America. Had he been a Liberal they would not have selected him. It would have been no use."

"Mr. Grant is a big man physically in a county where big men abound. Huge, six-foot 'north of Ireland' men are the rule there."

Lillian Gish Fond of Methodist Church Picnics

Film Star Preaches From Pulpit to Crowds of People.

CHURCH services in New York City are becoming exciting these days. First there was the famous battle between William A. Brady, the theatrical producer, and Rev. John Roach Straton, in the latter's church, when cheers and boos and hisses rent the air.

And now along comes Lillian Gish, the film star, and preaches in the Chelsea Methodist Church on a Sunday evening.

The crowd that came out to see Lillian in a pulpit instead of on the screen was so great that windows behind the pulpit had to be opened so that part of the crowd could be accommodated in a room beyond the windows. It was the pastor of the church, Rev. Christian F. Reiser, who attended to all the details and made the crowd as comfortable as he could.

Canadians are interested in Lillian Gish and her sister Dorothy, not only on account of the films in which they have appeared, but because they are old friends of Mary Pickford, the Toronto girl. Mary and Lillian and Dorothy played together on the stage when they were all several years under ten.

Lillian, from her pulpit, said she was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church, but that she used to attend some of the Methodist Epworth League meetings and a good many Methodist picnics.

The first time Lillian ever appeared in public as an entertainer, she said, was at a Sunday school affair. When she and her sister as children went on the stage their mother looked after them and always said that there was a Bible in their dressing room.

BYNG DOES NOT DISDAIN A CRUSHED SACK SUIT

Canada's Governor-General Most Informal in His Civilian Attire—He Speaks Informally, Thoughtfully.

By JACK NORTH.

LORD BYNG doesn't care a bit if his suit is crushed and shabby. Such a condition of affairs might embarrass some men, but it doesn't worry the governor-general of Canada.

One night not long ago he spoke to a group of Toronto citizens. The invitations were marked for "informal" dress, but in spite of this some of the guests came in evening clothes or dinner jackets. Those who did follow instructions and came in tweeds had quite evidently had them pressed carefully before setting out to see the governor-general.

Everybody was spruced up, with hair brushed back and all the little details of apparel attended to.

But when Lord Byng arrived he was wearing not even an ordinary sack suit, but an unusually shabby one. The coat didn't sit any too straight, the lapels were crushed, the pocketflaps were turned in, and the pockets themselves were bulging. The knees of the trousers bulged even more than the pockets of the coat.

But the governor-general was entirely at his ease, except that he said he wasn't much of a public speaker. Canadians are accustomed to hear their governor-generals say this, and they are quite ready to believe it too, from many past experiences.

But this time the governor-general is too modest. He is a good speaker in the sense that he talks naturally and that he seems to be saying something that he thinks or that the public is thinking about, instead of the vapid generalities or the glib oratory of so many public men.

Byng is informal in his public expressions, too, as well as in his attire. On this particular occasion he was talking about Lloyd George. The latter, of course, is a prime minister responsible not to Byng but to the King. Byng therefore could speak about him more freely.

"Lloyd George," said Byng, "is certainly a wonder at getting out of messes. Sometimes one is tempted to wish he wouldn't get into them."

KING FIGHTS A SALMON

THE tallest of fishermen's tall tales is surely the Frenchman's story of how the King fought a salmon. His Majesty was the subject of a eulogistic article in the French press, and this is how the writer expressed his lively imagination:

"He is an angler of the first force, the King of Britain. Behold him there, as he sits motionless under his umbrella, patiently regarding his many-colored floats: how obstinately he contends with the elements! It is a summer day of Britain—that is to say, a day of sleet and fog and tempest. But what would you? It is as they love it, those who would follow the sport. Presently the King's float begins to descend. My! but how the strikes! That hook is implanted in the very bowels of the salmon. The King rises. He spurs aside his footstool. He strides strongly and swiftly towards the rear. In good time the salmon comes to approach himself to the bank. Aha! the King has cast aside his rod. He hurls himself flat on the ground on his victim. They splash and struggle in the icy water. Name of a dog! But it is a brave laddie! The gillie, a kind of outdoor domestic, administers the coup de grace with his pistol. The King cries with a very shrill voice, 'Hip, hip, hurrah!' On these red letter days, His Majesty King George dines on a haggis and a whisky grog. Like a true Scotsman, he wears only a kilt."

For the Night Shift

THE little boy sat down on the curb and sobbed his heart out, and very nearly started a tidal wave in the gutter, so copious were his tears.

He had lost his weekly dole—the penny he looked forward to each week. For hours he had searched for it, in vain.

Presently an old Scot came along and offered comfort.

"Dinna cry, laddie," he said. "If ye dinna find it afore dark, here's a match."—Pearson's Weekly.

COUNCIL CENSURED BY RATEPAYERS FOR REEVE'S RAISE

Central Ratepayers Invite Clerk to Explain Finances; Water-works Debated

The Royal Oak Hotel last night acted as hosts to the Central Ratepayers' Association of Saanich, when that body debated the water-works extensions, municipal finances and condemned the raising of Reeve Watson's indemnity by the Council in estimates committee last Wednesday.

Expensive Receipts. Mr. Nix declared the annual municipal accounts show that water-works collections had cost $1 every $9 collected, and expressed the opinion that the cost should be greatly lowered.

He levelled a number of criticisms against the waterworks finances, one being that last year, ignoring sinking fund payments, $17,000 profit had been made on water sales. He wanted to know where that had gone, as only $5,000 had been used for extensions.

Ernest Orr pointed out that, as a result of that profit, waterworks taxes had been reduced from 5 cents to 3 cents per foot.

Would Abolish Collector. J. Jones advocated establishment of a collecting day in each district, and those users not paying at the advertised ward collecting station on the specified day would have to pay at Royal Oak. "This would save lots of money in a year," he said.

Useful Waste. Discussing the heavy cost of water to Saanich last month, J. W. Fullbrook declared he had seen three taps running continuously, night and day, in Ward Seven. Delegates urged the cases should be reported to the police. "Police, they have no power," replied Mr. Fullbrook, and being contradicted, he continued, "why, one of these taps is right next to the policeman."

At another meeting the Central will arrange to bring the facts to the attention of the water and sewer committee of the Council, at the same time at economy suggestions will be submitted.

Profitless Business. Chairman Collis said he could see no more water profits for several years, as he believed the surplus earnings of the old area would all be absorbed by the Gordon Head extension. He thought the water policy of Saanich should be revised, to use water profits for extensions instead of reduced waterworks charges. He did not agree to this policy of reducing the frontage tax from 5 cents to 2 cents. The vacant lot holder has been relieved at the expense of the residents.

Better Bus Service. Extension of the Lake Hill bus line to Royal Oak was suggested as valuable, and Secretary Patterson was instructed to secure data from the various lines as to the possibility of the change.

The Association decided to invite Clerk Cowper to attend the next session to be held on April 6 at Tolmie School, to give information upon phases of the last annual report.

Condemn Reeve's Raise. The action of the Council in raising the Reeve's indemnity by thirty-three per cent, after workmen have been cut by twenty per cent, was introduced by E. Orr of Ward Seven and received general disapproval, although some of the delegates urged the service given by the Reeve to be worth the increase. A vote of censure was passed, there being no dissenting voice, while a number suggested addition of a rider commending Councilors Macneil and Dooley for withholding the raise, as not according with general reductions in wages now in effect.

Delegates were present as follows: Ward One A. Francis and F. Salmon; Ward Two, J. Jones, J. Hosie and J. Patterson; Ward Four, W. H. Nix; Ward Five, F. W. Towler; Ward Seven, J. W. Fullbrook, R. E. Collis and Ernest Orr.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the proprietor of the Royal Oak Hotel for the use of the room.

Doctors Alarmed By Big Growth of "T.-B." Death-Rate

They Present Recommendations For Coping With Increase of Disease; Sanatoria and Clinics Urged For Cities; Dry Climate and Elevation Found to Have Fewer Curative Advantages Than Thought.

Victoria doctors through a special committee of the Victoria Medical Society have just completed their report on tuberculosis conditions in this city and province. The report represents more than a year's work of investigating and analyzing the ravages of the disease.

Their findings show that tuberculosis carries off more persons here than the united ravages of the six diseases which rank next in order of virulence.

Together with their report the doctors present a series of recommendations for effective handling of the disease here.

The report points out that in 1908 one death out of every twenty in B. C. was due to tuberculosis. In 1917 this rate had increased to one death out of every ten.

"In 1908 we had the lowest death rate from consumption of any Province in Canada and now we have the highest death rate of any of the Provinces," the report says.

"A well-known public man has stated that the only way Canada can reduce its burden of debt is by increased immigration, leading to far greater population. It appears to us that a better economic policy is to save the lives of Canadian citizens of to-day."

Civilization Brought T. B. It is pointed out that one of the difficulties in handling the disease is that there is no efficient system of notification, and therefore an absolute ignorance of the true extent of this disease in the Province.

The report says that "the failure of the Provincial Board of Health to enforce the notification regulations they have themselves promulgated throws a heavy responsibility on the Board for the spread of this disease and the suffering caused thereby."

"The spreading of human tuberculosis infection throughout the world is entirely due to dissemination of virulent bacilli," the report quotes Prof. A. Calmette, associate director of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, as saying. "These are most frequently persons suffering from phthisis, who scatter an enormous number of bacilli in their sputum and intestinal excretions, either directly or by means of objects soiled by them, or again through living carriers, such as flies."

"In native countries before the advent of civilization pulmonary tuberculosis is unknown."

Dust Carries Disease. "It has been calculated that a tuberculosis patient may throw out in the sputum over four billion bacilli every 24 hours. As the sputum dries and is reduced to dust the bacilli are widely distributed. Cornet collected 118 samples of dust from hospital wards and from the rooms of tuberculosis patients and of these samples forty were found to be virulent to susceptible animals. The dust of a room in which an infectious patient had died was found to be infectious six weeks afterwards. There is then clear evidence that air borne dust may carry the infective agent."

"When a tuberculosis patient coughs he expels into the air droplets of secretion containing virulent tubercle bacilli. These droplets are rarely projected more than forty inches beyond the person coughing and on account of their density fall rapidly to the ground."

The committee which carried on the investigations and compiled the report was headed by Dr. Herman Robertson as chairman with Dr. C. W. Walker working with him. Dr. W. Pace on his recent visit to England gathered information and the opinions of some of the leading authorities on the disease in Great Britain which were of service to the committee here in their work.

Takes Heaviest Toll. "What is the position in British Columbia and what steps are being taken to cope adequately with this prevalent infectious disease?" the report goes on. "From 1902 to 1921 the total deaths from tuberculosis (all forms) were 5,683; from pneumonia, 3,428; from cancer, 3,016. In the two years ending June 30, 1921 the deaths from tuberculosis (all forms) were 864 (exclusive of infantile returns). The combined deaths from typhoid fever, small-pox, measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria, influenza totalled 268 (exclusive of infantile returns)."

"We adhere to our former statement—That the present methods dealing with this disease in British Columbia are utterly inadequate and largely a waste of public money."

"On June 20, 1921 out of the total number of deaths of ex-service men in British Columbia, 116 or 50.2 per cent were due to tuberculosis. These figures do not include Canadian soldiers who died while on the strength of the Department of Militia and Defence in British Columbia nor pensioners who died in British Columbia while on the strength of the Board of Pension Commissioners."

Adequate Facilities Lacking. "Dr. Vrooman, Medical Director of the Rotary Clinic, Vancouver, in his report to the Board of Governors of the Clinic writes: "The unfortunate and tragic part of the work in that city often when we discover a case that is curable we cannot put them under conditions that offer a fair chance for recovery or infectious disease account in the past eight years to increase the accommodation in B. C. for the treatment of civilian cases of pulmonary tuberculosis. The constant necessity of having advanced and infectious cases at home among their families because of inadequate or inefficient hospital accommodation. The economic loss of allowing this state of affairs to continue means many millions of dollars in years to come, aside from the suffering and death that will inevitably ensue. There were 173 cases died in Greater Vancouver last year of pulmonary tuberculosis. This means at least 1,000 of open cases requiring treatment. It means as many more incipient and suspect cases that tuberculosis were placed under treatment in the initial stages of the disease."

"The scheme we have outlined does not entail great expenditure. Notification will cost no more with efficient working than it does now with inefficiency and departmental apathy."

"The Rotary Clinic in Vancouver is already doing good work and the total cost of work last year amounted to $15,600."

Urges Victoria Clinic. "We need a Victoria Tuberculosis Clinic as the next step."

"A deliberate and sustained policy of forming an Industrial Farm Colony in conjunction with Tranquille will enable more patients to be received at a minimum capital outlay, for expensive buildings are not necessary."

"The establishment of workshops for sheltered employment near Victoria and Vancouver is no great item and staffed almost entirely by arrested cases of consumption, every dollar expended would be pulling its weight."

"The ex-service consumptive receives a pension in addition to his earnings, the civilian does not, and it will be argued that the civilian after his sanatorium and colony treatment will not be able to earn enough to support a wife and family. This is undoubtedly true in many cases but is no argument against his rational employment. It is rather a strong argument in favor of a civil pension to the sufferer. We defend this policy on the ground that pro-

What Doctors Urge

Recommendations of the Victoria Medical Society for Effectively Coping With the Tuberculosis Menace in British Columbia Are:

1. Compulsory notification of all sufferers from the disease in all forms.
2. A tuberculosis clinic in centre of population equipped with all facilities for diagnosis and treatment, the staff to include one expert tuberculosis physician and one or more nurses specially trained in this disease.
3. Close co-operation between the clinic and the medical officer of health for the town or district in all matters affecting sanitation, regulations for the inspection of meat and milk.
4. Sanatoria such as Tranquille should be regarded as the mother hospitals for tuberculosis, and should be staffed by experts who would keep a central office, consulting with tuberculosis officers and general practitioners and keeping the dispensaries in touch with its work and with one another.
5. The industrial farm colony an integral part of the sanatorium, providing training, employment and prolonged treatment under the best conditions for the man and his family.
6. The workshop near the centres of population for those who need sheltered employment after sanatorium and colony treatment and whether they are ex-sanatorium patients or not.
7. The hospital for the care and isolation of the advanced cases.

should be under observation and treatment."

Death Rate Growing. "In the report of the directors of the Tranquille Sanatorium, Kamloops, May 1921, we note the following: "There are 400 deaths from tuberculosis in the year in British Columbia and the rate is growing. In all probability there are 2,000 persons at present in the Province suffering from the disease, while there is only accommodation at Tranquille for 200."

"From the same annual report we read: 'A wing is set aside at the Vancouver General Hospital for advanced tuberculosis cases, which wing is entirely inadequate to cope with the work of our city.'"

"The above estimate of 2,000 persons at present in the Province suffering from tuberculosis is purely guess work and we are of the opinion that in conformity with the views of Sir Robert Philip, the Professor of Tuberculosis in the University of Edinburgh: 'The mortality within a district might safely be multiplied by 10 to express the number of pulmonary tuberculosis worthy of medical surveillance.'"

4,000 T. B. Cases in B. C. "On this calculation the figure for British Columbia should be 4,000, not 2,000 sufferers from this disease who need medical treatment."

"We need hardly pause to show the seriousness of this problem here to-day. It does but emphasize how today, the Government Department responsible for the control of the disease, the health of the people has failed to understand or to deal with this prevalent and curable disease."

Money Waste Too Great. "The present system of handling this disease is largely a waste of public money, by comparing the expense with the results obtained."

"We will take the figure of 200 cases treated at Tranquille Sanatorium in a year. It is a fair estimate that each case will cost $3 a day and will be on an average in the Sanatorium for six months at an expenditure of $108,000."

"We are of opinion that approximately three-quarters of this sum, viz. $81,000 is expended in prolonging the lives of 60 cases. We have not here included the pay and allowances of ex-service men suffering from tuberculosis, no small cost to state, and the deaths of ex-service men in British Columbia over 50 per cent were due to this disease."

"We ask ourselves can this money be better expended by a more thorough and rational treatment of the disease?"

Praise Rotary Work. "At Papworth in Cambridgeshire out of the first 30 cases, who took up their residence in the Village Colony, only one had died in five years."

"What great results might be obtained if all cases of pulmonary tuberculosis were placed under treatment in the initial stages of the disease?"

vided the civilian or ex-soldier consumptive follows the rules of life laid down for him for his own good and for the good of the community as a whole, he deserves help and this help is an insurance to the whole community against the spread of this fatal infectious disease."

Must Bear Cost. "The Dominion and Provincial Governments have accepted the duty of providing free treatment for those who are suffering from their own misconduct, why deny help to those who as civilians have been infected by the carelessness and ignorance of others and by the failure of the responsible authority to guard them from infection?"

"We are aware that there are in our Province many cases of pulmonary tuberculosis who have migrated here owing to climatic conditions, both ex-service men and civilians and that the cost of caring for these would be an unfair burden on the Provincial Treasury. Nevertheless we feel that this financial burden must be borne if we are to avoid the certain danger of the spread of infection by those who seek a return to health within our Province."

Veterans Heavy Sufferers. "We know that pulmonary tuberculosis is twice as common among ex-service men as among the civilian population of the same age period. There are known to have been in 1921, 7,000 ex-service consumptives in Canada—probably the largest number in any country. These patients have returned to their homes in city, town, village and farm throughout the country. They are disseminators of infection. We would ask what steps the health authorities have taken to prevent infection in these homes? We greatly fear that, B. C. at any rate, the steps taken have been practically nil. The result will be disastrous in an increasingly large number of cases which will crop up in years to come. These cases are already turning up with sufficient frequency to warrant attention."

Serious Conditions Here. "We could tell you of a widow of an ex-soldier who recently died of T. B. lungs, who already shows signs of being a victim of the disease. Their two children have tubercular glands of the neck and last year, perhaps not many years, will probably break down with the pulmonary form of the disease."

"An tell of another man who a few weeks after marriage broke down with pulmonary tuberculosis and died after an illness of one and a half years' duration. Just before his death his wife showed undoubted signs of having acquired the disease."

In another instance there is the wife and four children of a T. ex-service man. Two of the children have glands of neck, the baby is in very delicate health and is probably tubercular."

"We can quote many such cases but these will, we think, give a slight indication of what is going on in this district at the present time."

Families Infected. "A careful study of family histories with reference to the incidence of tuberculosis is illuminating and teaches us much as regards the epidemiology of the disease. It must be specially noted that many of these histories cover quite an extensive period of time. That is to say that the disease could not in many cases be individual may not be manifested until many years have elapsed since the date of actual infection."

"Consumption is but the last stanza of a song, the first stanza of which was sung to the child in its cradle. The disease could not in many cases be individual may not be manifested until many years have elapsed since the date of actual infection."

"As Von Behring tritely puts it 'Consumption is but the last stanza of a song, the first stanza of which was sung to the child in its cradle. The disease could not in many cases be individual may not be manifested until many years have elapsed since the date of actual infection.'"

"Cases that have come under our observation recently may be mentioned. The first is that of a man of 22 years of age who broke down on military service in 1916 with pulmonary tuberculosis. Examination of his chest initially showed no abnormality. This man (the phthisical type) that he had suffered from the disease, unrecognized as such, in childhood. His family his-

is interesting: His parents are alive and healthy. There were five sons, four of them now between 28 and 42 years of age, are alive and healthy; the fifth, the patient himself, is the youngest of the family; there have been three deaths in sequence after the fourth son, all of whom died of consumption after the age of 20 and 21; the last one dying about seven years ago. About eighteen years ago when the members of this family were all healthy they migrated to one of the western cities, where they took a house in close proximity to the husband's sister who was then suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis, but not diagnosed as such until many years afterwards. This lady came frequently to the house and looked after the younger children, who were the daughters and the youngest boy. It can be strongly presumed that it was at this period that the seeds of infection were sown which later matured with sufficient frequency to warrant attention.

Sanatorium in Wrong Place. "We regret that here in British Columbia our sanatorium is situated so far from the big centres of population, we believe, to a mistaken faith in the efficacy of a high, dry climate."

The views of Sir Robert Philip are valuable in this connection: "A sanatorium does not require, in order to be effective, to be erected in an inaccessible place, removed, it may be, a hundred miles from the centre of population which it especially serves. Many mistakes have been made in regard to this in the past. Much unnecessary expenditure and inconvenience have been caused if a sanatorium established for the poorer classes of a town is an eminently desirable that, while it should be removed to a sufficient distance to protect it from smoke and dust it should still be sufficiently under the eye of the citizens to constitute from day to day an object-lesson in the application of aero-therapy."

Climate Makes Little Difference. "Sanatoriums should be founded in immediate relationship to the large centres. I desire to insist on this point with much emphasis. It is of the first importance to the hopeful tackling of the question, in the widest sense, that patients and the public should get rid of the prevalent, but incorrect, notion that a cure can only be effected and health maintained under conditions which their ordinary residences and station in life will permit them to enjoy."

"It has been demonstrated in the most conclusive way—and in this matter the experience of the Royal Victoria Hospital for consumption at Edinburgh has been most freely cited in evidence—that, just as consumption occurs in all countries where the disease has obtained a footing, it can be treated in all climates with approximately equal success, or want of success, according as the larger indications for treatment are fulfilled or overlooked."

"It is consequently evident, and emphatically advantageous, that the sanatorium or hospital for curative treatment should be reasonably near the town chiefly interested."

Isolation Not Best. "The isolation from the family, from friends, and from accustomed surroundings that is inevitable when the sanatorium is so far removed from the principal centres of population has a very harmful influence on the patient's health and mental outlook on life."

"While expressing this view we recognize that the sanatorium for tuberculosis in British Columbia must remain at Tranquille at this time and the following outline of a scheme for an industrial farm colony is based on a recognition of this necessity."

"At the same time we wish to record our conviction that a great error would be made if further accommodation were provided at Tranquille until such time as the needs of the coast cities are satisfied by the provisions of adequate sanatorium colony and hospital accommodation in their immediate vicinity."

About Milk Infection. "Regarding the importance of bovine tuberculosis as a factor in the causation of tuberculosis in humans, much has been written. In order to avoid burdening this report with detail, we have decided not to enumerate all the findings of the commissions appointed by various governments to inquire into the truth of Prof. Koch's statements at the Tuberculosis Congress in 1901 or the work that has been done on this branch of the subject."

"From a perusal of the literature available and a consideration of recorded experience, your committee believe that Bovine T. B. is far less virulent for humans than organisms of the human type, and that bovine tuberculosis conveyed the disease through massive doses of bacilli taken in milk."

Pasteurization Dubious. "We think that pasteurization of milk as ordinarily practiced is a very dubious safeguard, and in no way lessens the responsibility of those who offer tuberculosis milk for consumption."

"We believe that massive infection from bovine sources is responsible for some few acutely fatal and many mild cases of tuberculosis in children. We think that existing machinery for safeguarding the public is reasonably adequate if made use of and because it has been easier to develop, it has reached a point far ahead of that necessary to prevent infection from man to man, or adult to child."

"We are convinced that lung infection of human type organisms is of infinitely greater importance than infection from bovine sources, and that wherever real progress has been made in reducing morbidity from this disease, it is because this fact has been appreciated. Fastening the buck to the cow will accomplish nothing."

Want T. B. Commission. "In this report we have outlined a co-ordinated anti-tuberculosis scheme that we believe to be the minimum necessary to control this disease in British Columbia."

"We hope that our views will be freely criticized, for criticism at least will show that interest is around and there will then be hope that the present attitude of indifference and apathy in all classes will be overcome."

"There is one way, and one way only, in which the truth as to the prevalence of this disease in British Columbia and the right way to combat it can be ascertained and this is by the appointment of a Provincial Anti-Tuberculosis Commission on the lines of the Commission in Saskatchewan."

"We ask this society to use every endeavor to see that such a commission be appointed now."

"If we appear to unduly emphasize the responsibility of the Government, it is because we recognize that only by Government action can we attain success."

"We wish to tender our sincere thanks to the late President of this society, Dr. W. E. Scott-Moncrieff, to whose energy and initiative the formation of this sub-committee of this society is due."

"In conclusion we would quote the words of the late King Edward VII. when speaking of tuberculosis: "If preventable, why not prevented?"

Camels are the only animals that cannot swim.
